A General Statement of the Holy Laws of Zion.

Introduction by Father James.

New Lebanon Thursday morning May 7th 1840.

The following is an extract from the Book containing The Holy Laws of Zion; which Book was written by the hand of God himself, and given to his Two Anointed Ones, to establish on earth; that his Laws, his Statutes and Judgments might be known to the children of men, and that all who chuse freely to walk in them, might leave a privilege so to do, and again find a pure relation to the things of God, which have been lost from the beginning through transgression and disobedience.

be cut off from my people. My Laws for my people in Zion, are not great and hidden mysteries, or something that has never before been taught you; but they are plain, simple, and easy to be understood; that which has been taught you from the beginning, by your Heavenly Parents, and by my Holy Anointing in the Lead, which at all times is present with you.

Part II.

The Order of confessing and repenting of Sin, for those who first set out to embrace the Gospel, and come in directly from the World.

1. Whenever any souls, from a conviction in their own consciences, apply to you, in the line of order, and say they desire a privilege to confess their sins, and ye have no reason to believe they have committed any capital crimes, for which the laws of man must deal with them, grant them an opportunity; don't turn them away, whether they be rich or poor, high or low; for when souls feel the need of honestly confessing their sins, my Spirit is at work with them.

2. And if they are such as have never had any previous privilege ~~privilege~~ in the gospel, and stand clear from all incumbrances without, then they are free to be gathered into the fold of Zion, there to learn her holy laws.

Therefore teach them in my holy fear, saith the Lord, how to labor for true repentance; how to cry to God for a broken heart, that their sins may be blotted out.

3. Teach them as Christ and your blessed Mother have taught you, in the spirit of loving kindness and true charity, as they can understand; but use no flatteries; for a hireling can never be a true heir of my Kingdom. Teach them to give up their idols, without and within, and think not to carry them along; for they will prove thorns in their sides, and stumbling-blocks in their way, over which they cannot travel.

4. When a soul feels the horrors of a guilty conscience, aroused by the flames of conviction, then is the best and the most proper time to plant the true gospel seed, and lay the foundation principles of the work of God in that soul.

5. And all ye who are called to labor with souls, in the line of hearing openings, I do require that ye purify your own hearts, by an honest confession of all wilful or known transgressions of the laws of Zion, in your knowledge, and that ye labor for a true sense of repentance and godly sorrow for the same, before ye go forth in this solemn and sacred duty of standing in the place of a witness between me and one that is waked up to a lively sense of the need of confessing sin to God, in the presence of His witnesses.

6. And when ye are thus prepared, into whatever room ye enter, make fast the door, (in all cases like general openings) that the one who is in the sacred duty of confessing sin, be not interrupted by any one's coming into the room. In many cases, a little interruption of a soul in that labor, especially at a time when approaching to points very crossing to speak of, might be the means of such a soul's passing over something which might, in process of time, grow to his or her own destruction and final separaton from my people.

7. In some cases, and with some persons, it might not make much difference. But ye cannot be too careful on this ground: for there is no order established in Zion, more sacred than the order of confessing sin, and from which such fatal consequences might proceed from so little interruption. Here is wisdom, and let him that hath wisdom, understand and use it aright.

8. Whenever ye who are set to labor with souls, perceive that they are approaching upon such points as cause their strength and courage to begin to faulter, labor them, with the strength of your soul, to help them, and gather their feelings to you, that they faint not.

9. I do not require you to dig out the sins of any one; but I do require, saith the Lord, that when ye see the two opposite spirits, good and evil, struggling in a soul while in the work of confessing sin, ye would labor to strengthen the good, with feelings of mild and tender kindness, that the soul may no longer be bound by the cruel oppressor.

10. But such as are dead and stupid, resting in their sins among you, labor in fervent cries to your Heavenly Father, that the horrors and condemnation of a guilty conscience may fall upon them on whom it does belong, that they may be awakened to a true sense of their state, and come to the light before it be too late.

11. The first step that souls can take in the work of regeneration is, honestly to confess their sins, in the presence of one or more of my witnesses, according as the case and nature of the circumstance may require. They then can see, in truth, but a very short distance, as respects the increase, growth and travel of the soul in the New creation; nor is it necessary that they should. But so far as is needful for them, in order that they may set out right in the beginning, can always be shown by those who are set to labor with them, if they are faithful to do their duty.

12. And as they increase in strength and power over evil, (or the inclinations of their own natures,) light and understanding of the things of God, will break forth in their souls, and they will grow humble and meek, easy to be entreated, and thankful for the least instruction or admonition from those who have had a longer travel, and stand nearer to God than they do.

13. But if you suffer them to go on, in a high-minded zeal, preaching to others, month after month, and year after year, until they lose all sense of their first tribulation, which brought them to seek after some way whereby they could be delivered from their sins, they will soon come to a stopping place; and rather than bow low enough to go forward, they will rise still higher, and fall backward.

14. When souls feel broken and worn down under a weight of tribulation and sufferings, it is then easy to bend their spirits right. So be wise, all ye who are called to labor with souls who seek to enter in at the strait gate.

15. But unto you that have had a long privilege and much teaching, I say hearken. As the soul advances from one order or degree of privilege to another still forward, I do require, saith the Lord, that they walk more and more exact and circumspect, more and more secluded from the spirit and friendship of the world, who yet live in their sins and uncleanness, defiling each other, both in body and soul.

Part III.

The Order and Obligation of souls that are gathered into Church Relation, throughout every Society of Believers upon earth.

1. Every Church that is established in gospel order, is founded upon this principle, and this principle must & will forever stand. Every soul that is gathered into this order of relation in Christ, must feel a weighty responsibility resting upon them, to be more exact in keeping the orders of God, as established in this relation; more just, more upright and more holy; that by your bright shining examples of godliness and virtue, ye may be active helps to the leading influence which is vested in your beloved Ministry, in leading and directing the general sense of said Society heavenward. And this you must do, by being strict and punctual to keep your own order in this relation, where the gift of God has placed you.

2. For in this relation you are called to be members of the Inner Court, or in a relation and order which is placed to be the leading or elder part of said Society, where such Church is located, and where the greatest burden in all things, spiritual and temporal must rest.

3. And to this order and relation which I have planted through my Two Anointed Ones, saith the Lord, I do require every other family in said Society, to look with reverence and respect. And when they speak one to another, as touching this order and relation, I do require them to fear me, saith the Lord, in what they say: — For the order of my Anointing is holy; and they that suffer their feelings to rise against it, shall not prosper, saith the Lord.

4. But consider, all ye my people, who have this privilege to dwell in the Inner Court of my Zion upon earth, what manner of lives ye are called to live. — Truly, saith the Lord, the number is few among you that rightly consider this.

5. But unto the ancients of the people, My Daughter's first-born, for their true faithfulness and devotedness of soul and body to my work upon earth, I have given them a name that shall stand in my Kingdom, and never be blotted out.

6. My ways are just and equal, saith the Lord. I dispense to every soul his due reward, according to his works, and according to the greatness of the privilege which is in the dispensations of my providence, through my Anointing upon earth, I have given unto every one, from the least unto the greatest.

7. And ye who will bear the same cross, and wear the same yoke, must yield perfect obedience to the revealed will and order which is made known through my holy Anointing on earth, in the age and day wherein ye live. And unto all such I will give an ever lasting name, which shall be sealed in my holy Book of Life, eternally to stand.

8. But unto you that make it your delight to seek after the knowledge and wisdom of the children of this world, drinking in their spirit, and blending with their forms and fashions, giving your sense to learn the arts & sciences, as you call them, instead of giving your sense to learn my way and do my will, in truth, as you are daily taught; unto such I say, saith the Lord, I will darken in my judgment, and cast off in my fury.

9. Vengeance is mine, saith the Lord, and I will repay unto them, throughout all generations, who dare presume to sound forth words, or stretch their mouths in derision and scorn of my loving and tender kindness, which, of all people since the world was created, you that live in this day, do enjoy the greatest share, saith the Lord.

10. My word is holy, and my way is straight; and it shall be well with every soul that truly walks therein. You that are called in Church relation, are called to come nigher unto me than any other order that is established among my people on earth; consequently ye are required to keep further from the children of this world, as respects the union and blending of your spirits.

11. Do any of you, who are called to be members of my holy sanctuary on earth, think that you can have the children of this world, who are yet in their sins, hired in, as servants, to work with you, in your daily employ, and not be defiled with their spirits, who are daily committing sin while yet among you? Nay, saith the Allseeing eye of Him who knoweth what is.

12. And do any of you expect to succeed and prosper in planting the seeds of the gospel in the hearts and souls of the rising generation, while they are conversant with those who have never confessed their sins? and from whom their natures of lust and rebellion daily derive strength? Nay, in no wise, saith the Lord, the laws of Zion do forbid it.

13. Do any of you think that you can fulfill your calling in the order of this relation, which requires you to be shining examples of godly piety and virtue to all those back of you, while you are in possession of many things which my Spirit hath never owned, and against which your blessed Parents and present Lead have repeatedly warned you?

14. And your senses still pleading for more and more of those things which have a direct tendency to increase your love and attachment more and more to the idols of time, which are in direct opposition to the order of your calling? In no wise. For my commandment, from the foundation of the world, has been, that No idols shall ye have, and no god shall ye worship but me.

15. I do require you to give up all, and be as your ever blessed Mother taught you, while she was upon earth; Hands to work and hearts to God; devoted, soul and body, doing your duty faithfully, in your different lots and callings. And such have been, and shall forever be the ones on whom my everlasting blessing shall rest, saith God, your heavenly Father.

Part IIII.

Of judging the holy Order and Works which my Hand hath established, saith the Lord.

1. No soul or spirit on earth or in eternity, can judge righteous judgment, except under the influence which is righteous and holy. And none can be under this righteous and holy influence, except they stand uprightly in that order which I have placed for their protection. And every thing that ye judge, whether of my holy works, or of one another, except ye have been placed by the order which I have established for that purpose, saith the Lord, will be held in the Book of remembrance against you, as falsehoods; and there must remain, until blotted out by an honest confession and true repentance.

2. I have placed a judgment seat, before which ye shall all be judged. The living testimony which I have sent forth, through my Two Anointed Ones, and that which I still cause to be loudly sounded in your ears, - through my Anointing on earth, is the judgment seat before which ye shall all be judged, in time and in eternity. Therefore take heed that ye judge not one anotha from under the influence of your own fallen, corrupt natures. For while the soul is under this influence, it can pass no righteous judgment.

3. I have placed a true line of order, for every one among you to open your burdens and trials, whether it be in respect to members in your own order or family, or whether it be in respect to members of other orders or families, or whether it be in respect to other Societies. And how oft have your beloved Lead, by the spirit of my Anointing, strictly enjoined this upon all of you, desiring that no one would, in any case, neglect to keep this sacred order; for herein is contained the means by which the whole family of Christ can move in union and harmony together.

4. It is the law of Zion which I have established on earth, saith the Lord, and it is also established in Heaven; That every one must keep the orders and regulations that are established in the order or family where they live, and never be enquiring after those of other orders or families.

5. I have intended from the beginning, saith the Holy One of Israel, that no soul should enter my Kingdom without making a great sacrifice to obtain it. — And all the laws and statutes which are established in Zion upon earth, are given for that expres purpose, to help souls to make this sacrifice which I do require; that they may be worthy of a place in my peaceable Kingdom of rest, when they have done with the perishable and fading things of time.

6. And they that do not feel thankful to make this sacrifice, according as they are taught by their beloved Elders, whom I have placed as faithful watchmen; unto such I say, saith the Holy One, they have no right in my Kingdom; and the door I shall shut against them.

7. But to such as embrace the offers and call of this my holy gospel, with thankfulness and gratitude, and faithfully walk therein to the end of their days, I will open unto them the gates of Paradise, where my holy Angels dwell, and crown them with crowns of glory that shall never fade nor wax old.

8. Ye are all called to dwell together in my Spirit saith the Lord, as peaceable lambs in the fold of Christ and your blessed Mother, that my holy wings may overshadow and protect you in times of darkness & great distress. For my immediate protection will be extended to none, save those that I find in the fold of my Two Anointed Ones. And ye that have ears to hear, and hearts to receive, let this my solemn warning sink deep therein, saith your Heavenly Father.

Part IV.

Of Justification and Purification, as established by my holy Order saith the Lord.

1. Every soul among you, that walks in obedience to what you are taught, according to your best understanding, is perfectly justified before me, according to the order and travel to which you have attained. But none can be purified short of deep tribulation and sufferings in spirit.

2. The order that I have placed, that souls might find justification throughout Mount Zion, is this: That whenever ye are overcome and influenced by your passions, or your evil natures, so far as to commit actual sin, in word or in deed, ye do confess it to your Elders before you assemble with my people to make offerings to me.

3. For except ye do this, before ye assemble to worship me, your offerings will be loathsome in my sight, and a stink in my nostrils. The holy Spirit does require this, that atonement may be made, and the soul again set free, to labor for the precious bread and water of life, that it may live thereby.

4. And that ye may also be purified and washed from that nature which caused you to transgress, you must labor for true tribulation and godly sorrow in your own hearts; and not, when you have confessed and feel released from that judgment and horror of conscience under which you lay, while your sins were covered, give way to lightness and vanity, and thereby soon fall out of the straight way again.

5. But if ye are faithful to cry unto me for a broken heart and godly sorrow, that ye may truly repent, I will give you comfort and joy in this spirit, which shall be as far from lightness and vanity as day is from night, or as good is from evil.

6. Here is my fountain, and here is my pool, saith the Lord, wherein every creature that is saved, has got to wash and bathe, wash and bathe, until they are completely purified from the nature of sin. And this example has been abundantly set by your heavenly Parents, who have gone before, and by those who remain with you, in whom my Spirit delights.

7. There is no blame imputed to you for being born into the world so enwrapped with the nature of sin; but the greatest wickedness comes ~~comes~~ in consequence of souls, after having my gospel trumpet sounded in their ears, and the light of my eternal brightness spread before their eyes, turning again to sin, with their eyes wide open. I say unto such, saith the Lord, they had better never been born to see the days which they have seen.

8. But the hand of my everlasting kindness and charity shall be extended to all who will fight the good fight, until they have overcome; which work must be progressive, step by step. But be ye not discouraged; for I have placed my Angels of strength along the strait path, to help every honest hearted traveller.

Part V.

The holy Order of my Anointing upon Earth, which I have placed for the Salvation of Souls, saith the Lord.

1. Whenever souls have honestly set their hearts to seek after me, according to the best light and understanding which I have given them, I have always blessed and noticed them, by establishing some true line of order, in which, ~~[illegible]~~, if they were faithful to walk, they might at all times know what I did require of them, according to the age & requirements of the day in which they lived, from the foundation of the world to the present day.

2. Many of you who live in this day, and are called by my name, saith the God of Israel, read your Bibles (which by my hand, have been preserved for the children of men) concerning my work at different periods of time, and the various ways and manners in which I have manifested myself to mankind since the world began.

3. You read and feel astonished at the hardness of heart, and opposition of spirit which they showed to my word and work of that day. And when I sent my beloved Son, clothed with my mantle, for the restoration of Israel, how that they rejected his testimony, and refused all offers of salvation, and with madness and revenge, crucified his animal part upon the cross; because he did not come with such a testimony, and in such a manner as they had laid out, in their own natural wisdom.

4. Notwithstanding all the chastisement, judgment and desolation which I had brought upon them for departing from my laws and statutes, which I had established through my servant Moses, they (as a nation whom I had chosen to prefigure that work which I had designed for man, from age to age, in after generations) still refused to accept my last offer to them, through my beloved Son. And I sent forth my Angels of destruction, to destroy them in my wrath, and scatter them in my fury, to the four quarters of the earth.

5. I would, saith the Lord, have every soul be wise, and obey the call, and accept the offer I have made to them, in the age and day wherein they live. For I delight not in the destruction of any, but that all would repent & find me in mercy: for my delight is with the faithful and obedient, while my scourge and judgments must fall upon the wicked.

6. I say unto all you inhabitants of Zion, saith the Lord, see that ye do not touch the spirit of my Anointing. For if the sin of Judas be so great, in betraying his Lord and Master, in whom I had placed my anointing power, for him to bestow on whomsoever he would, that he hath found no forgiveness, nor place in my Kingdom, unto the present day, (which is the case, saith the Lord,) notwithstanding he quickly repented, after committing the crime, & destroyed his own life, by reason of the horror and torment of his soul;

7. How exceedingly careful do I require you to walk, in this respect, who live in a day in which the fullness of my work and Spirit, as respects mortals below, is made known, without sin unto salvation. For there can be no other door opened for the salvation and redemption of mankind, than that which has been opened by your blessed Lord & Savior Jesus Christ and Mother Ann.

8. I do require that all ye inhabitants of Mount Zion labor to learn true wisdom; that wisdom which cometh from God and your Eternal Mother; that you may know how to prize the day in which you live, and not for a few moments pleasure in disobedience and sin, lose a birthright that can never be regained, neither in time, nor in the endless ages of eternity.

9. For I say unto you, saith the Lord, No mortals on earth, since the foundation of the world, have ever had so great a privilege as you that live in this day, in which the way of entrance into my everlasting Kingdom is made known. And those that will walk in this pretty way, shall surely be clothed in white raiment, with crowns of victory on their heads.

10. If any of you suffer your sense and feelings to rise against that order, and disregard the counsel which I have established in Zion, for the protection and increase of her children, through my Anointing, ye do virtually crucify unto yourselves, the Lord Jesus Christ, as really as the Jews of old did, and that too, ~~and that to~~, in a day of far greater light and understanding.

11. I will reason with the creatures of my creation, saith the Lord, as a man will reason with his friend. But if they will not be persuaded, and turn a listening ear, and an attentive heart, but do deride my counsel, and mock and scorn my word, my vengeance and judgments shall be upon them: for the mouth of the Lord your God hath spoken it, and they shall not escape.

12 Remember my purposes alter not, nor in any way change, to favor or ease the carnal sense in man; but the way for his salvation is fixed, unalterable.— And every creature must have a free and fair offer of the means of salvation; and they that refuse, refuse to their own damnation; while they that embrace & accept, receive to the saving of their own souls.

13. Tho many may fall upon your right hand and upon your left; it only goes to prove the unalterableness of that decree which I have established: The soul that sinneth, and sinneth against light and understanding, shall surely die away from the body, and be cut off from my people. And none have ever been cut off, but what had sinned and sinned, and would not come to the light in my holy order, saith the Eternal Searcher of every heart.

14. Your own ways and your own wills are sure to lead you in the way of destruction. They are the cruel tyrants and despots that usurp the freedom of the soul. And no enjoyments can they give, however flattering, but what ~~they~~ leave a sting behind, and desolation marks its way. The more it is gratified and indulged, the more it is dissatisfied, and unwilling to hearken to the reasonable calls of conscience.

15. Many of you have often thought within your own hearts, why was it that I suffered mankind to come forth on the earth with natures so prone to disobedience and rebellion against their Creator, and against their own best good and comfort?

16. I ask, saith the Lord, would any of you, sending a man to perform a journey, confine his feet in a bushel? Neither would I control the free agency of man. But I have set before him the way of life and the way of death. I have not confined his feet; he has power to walk in either road, knowing the consequences of both.

Part VII.

Of the separation and distinction which I do require to be kept between my chosen people and the children of this world, who are yet in their sins and uncleanness.

1. I do require, saith He whose dwelling is on high, that all of you who name the name of Christ and your blessed Mother Ann, do keep my laws of distinction between your own souls, and the world of mankind at large; for if ye neglect to keep them in spirit and in truth, you will be ensnared by their idols, and led astray by their cunning and crafty inducements.

2. Hath not my hand prospered and increased your temporal blessings many fold, (according to the promise I did give through your heavenly Parents, who first opened the gospel to you) just in proportion as ye have been faithful and strict to follow the counsel they gave? Were ye not poor and in debt? and many of you destitute of the comforts of this life?

3. Were ye not encouraged by the cheering promises of your ever blessed Mother, and those with her, that if ye would be faithful, and put your hands to work, and give your hearts to God, and labor for an increasing sensation of his holy work in your own souls, that He would encrease your stores of temporal blessings, and set you free from all involvements to the children of this world?

4. I say, saith the Lord, were ye not cheered by these promises? and have ye not seen them verified & fulfilled, even beyond what ye could have any reason to expect within so short a period as sixty years? Compare your present situation, as respects your outward possessions, with that of fifty years ago, and let your own hearts say whether you are not astonished at what my hand hath done for you, in this line, saith the Lord.

5. But remember ye, that none of the disobedient, that turned their backs to my holy way, have had any proportionable share of my blessings in this line; but the most of them I have taken away under retributive judgment, and they are now in eternity, suffering; forever disinherited from that birthright, which those who remained faithful, (or the most part of them,) have entered into the enjoyment of, crowned with everlasting life. And those yet remaining upon the earth, among you, are prepared to enter when called.

6. The time has come, saith the Lord, for Zion to be purged from her idols; those things which she hath gathered, contrary to my pure Spirit, and directly averse to that counsel which hath been given her, thro' my Anointing. I have established her in my wisdom, and I will protect her in my strength, if she will closely adhere to the laws which I established for her safety.

7. And her inhabitants shall be my children, and I will be their God, their Father and their Friend; for they are my devoted few, upon whom the ends of the world must come. My candle and my lamp I have placed within her, and the light thereof shall never be extinguished, but shall yet extend to the ends of the earth.

8. Therefore do I watch her in my wisdom, and rebuke her in my mercy; for she hath waxed fat, and beginneth in her heart to say, Let us take our ease, and enjoy and feast upon the good which our hand hath gained. Therefore I say unto her, the day of her danger is come.

9. For when her children begin to withdraw from my holy counsel, whether in things spiritual or temporal, and trust in their own arm for strength, and to the wisdom of the carnally wise for protection; then do I begin, saith the Lord, to withdraw my arm of protection, and my Angels of blessing and wisdom; that she, in her judgment, may learn humility in spirit, and humbleness of body, and know that it is my hand, saith the Lord, that hath multiplied her blessings and increased her stores.

10. I do require, saith the Holy One of Israel, that all ye inhabitants of my Zion on earth, do hearken and give ear unto my words; for they are now in mercy, and in due season sent unto you.

11. I do require that ye gather yourselves, and your senses home from amongst the wicked and unclean, and no longer let your sense run for trade and traffic, to that extent which ye have done for many years past; for I have no protection for you in it, any further than what is indispensably necessary to obtain that which ye really need, and cannot by good economy and industry raise from the soil whereon I have placed you.

12. How great is your darkness! and how unwise have been your steps in this line! Even to neglect the cultivation of a great portion of your own lands to any degree, or much extent of improvement, and betake yourselves to a more fashionable and popular way of getting a living, (as you call it,) which is directly contrary to the counsel given by your heavenly Parents at the beginning; and in which manner of going, my blessing and protection will no longer be extended, saith the God of

Israel;

Israel; for ye have already gone far beyond your bounds.

13. I do require that ye should all remain at home, on your own posessions, as much as posible, where ye can put your own hands to work, and give your souls to labor for the holy things of God, in the peaceable fold of Zion, where you can be protected.

14. But unto such as are among you, who have a desire to be roving amongst the children of this world, following their schemes of speculation, and getting gain without right, I say unto such, except ye do repent & turn your sense into the fold of Christ and your blesed Mother, I will spew you out from Zion, and disinherit you from having any right, part or place in my Kingdom. I will cast you forth as dung & drops, saith the Lord of hosts.

15. But if ye will bow down and harken unto my word, and labor until ye bring your spirits to feel satisfied and thankful for that degree of modest plainness, in all that you poseps, agreeable to the example which was set by your heavenly Parents in the gospel, I will bless the increase and travel of your souls, and the health of your bodies; yea, I will bless the increase of your ground, and the increase of your flocks, and ye shall, in no wise, lack for any good thing that is needful, or necessary for your strength or comfort in this life.

16. I have not called you to this holy calling on earth, for the purpose of heaping up gold and silver; (for the children of this world can do that;) but I have called you to be bright and shining examples of every gospel virtue, in strict obedience to my will, thro' that holy Anointing which I have placed in Zion, that my proclaiming Angels might sound, sound; sound, sound, with their holy trumpets, & proclaim to the nations of the four quarters of the earth, that my Eternal Brightness can be found only in Zion.

17. I have called you, saith the Holy One of Zion, to gain this everlasting Brightness, and not to place your hearts upon, nor give your minds to be swallowed up with the perishable and corrupting things of time; but first seek my Kingdom and its righteousness, and all that is necessary for the body, (if ye are faithful,) shall be given unto you.

18. And this is the line of distinction which I do require you to keep: Never, in any way, or in any case whatever, to put yourselves in a situation to associate, unite or blend, unnecessarily, in conversation with the children of this world, whether at home or abroad.— But if ye have been sent in order, to do a duty, do it in my holy fear, saith the Lord, that they may know my holy Spirit dwells within you.

19. In so doing, they cannot, generally speaking, help but feel a fear and reverence while in your presence. And this will be a much greater protection to you, in both soul and body, than what all their courted friendships, or unnecessary freedom could afford you: for this, my Spirit in the gospel does forbid.

20. The law of Zion does also require that ye should no longer continue the practice of hiring the children of this world to work around among your brethren, and especially with those of the youthful class. But when you find it necessary to hire any particular job done, hire a company, and have them work by themselves, attended only by those who are set in order for that purpose.

21. And never allow them to eat in the same room, and at the same time with your brethren and sisters. This my holy law does forbid. Also keep them in that place & order which is provided for them, while they are among you; and always labor to do with as little of their help as ye consistently can.

22. And if ye keep my statutes, and do my will, in all these respects, the time will come when you will feel but little need or desire to have any of them on your possessions; except they have come to confess their sins, and embrace the gospel of truth.

23. My law does also enjoin that in every place, especially in large Societies, where you may have considerable to vend in the public markets, that it be plain and simple, and of that good and substantial quality which becomes your calling and profession, unembellished by any superfluities, which add nothing to its goodness or durability. This my gospel does forbid; and no gain that ye may get in this way, can ever be blessed or sanctified to my people, saith the Lord.

24. I also do require that all those who may be set in order to go out and vend these things in the public markets, should do it in a way that will take the least possible time, and do their duty faithfully; and immediately return again into the fold of Zion, and there render a strict and true account, even to a farthing, to that order which is placed for this purpose. And none are to buy or purchase any thing, while out among the children of this world, except such things as they have been authorized to get, or may need for their immediate comfort and support.

25. None are to buy and sell the same articles for the purpose of speculation; for in so doing your souls lose the sense of true honesty and the fear of God, and thereby gather darkness and loss; and never, in any case, to throng public places to gratify an idle curiosity, where ye have no immediate duty: for my protection cannot be extended to any soul that is in willful or careless disobedience.

26. And I do enjoin it upon the leading influence of every Society, to watch closely, the manner and goings of those that are called to deal with the children of this world.— And whenever you see they are departing from the true order which is established for their protection, in this line, either in the letter or the spirit of it, to admonish them to return to their duty in the line of order.

27. And if they, in any way, refuse to alter their manner of going, release them from that place, and suffer them no more to go out as public agents to transact business for my people; for they will do no honor to my children, saith the Lord; but they will bring trouble and sufferings, yea, ~~the~~ shame and disgrace, both upon themselves and upon my people: For their services and labors, in this line of sense, cannot profit you nor them.

Part VIII.

The Duty and Obligation of Elders, as established in the true Line of my Anointing, in their respective Orders and Families, as faithful Watchmen upon the Walls of Zion, saith the Lord.

1. I do require that in every order or family of much magnitude, there should be a lot of Elders, consisting of four in number, two of each sex, ~~and~~ whose immediate duty and obligations are confined to the spiritual travel and protection of every member in said order or family. They are clothed & anointed with my Spirit, saith the Lord, to gather souls into the holy order of my work.

2. I do require that they should watch and pray, that they may be blessed with a sense of spiritual sight and feeling, to discern the state and spiritual travel of every soul that is placed under their immediate charge and care; each in their proper line and order, laboring for the protection of their own sex, not as man and woman, but as brethren and sisters, watching and laboring unitedly together, for the protection of souls in the house of God, in their respective order or family.

3. It is also their right and duty to counsel and instruct, in all things, so far as need requires for regulation sake, and the maintenance of good order; being, nevertheless, in perfect union and subjection, in their feelings, to the counsel and instruction of that holy order of my Anointing, which is before them, and vested in the Ministry; to whose authority they are, at all times, in all their transactions, held responsible.

4. It is furthermore their duty, at all times, so far as is consistent, to be at home, and keep more retired & secluded from the general throng and bustle of temporal business than any other part of the family; but to be faithful with their hands, so far as they have time and strength, one side of attending to the duties of their spiritual calling, for the good and protection of souls, which must never be neglected for any other consideration whatever; as there is no other duty so important as that which relates to the protection of the soul.

5. It is also the duty of the Elders to see and know that every individual member in their family, attends strictly to the orders therein established, both in things spiritual and temporal. And if there be any member or members that refuse to comply, according to the requirements of their Elders, to the established orders and regulations in said order or family to which they belong, I do, saith the Lord, require the Elders to labor with, and admonish such persons in the spirit of Christ, to return to their duty, and beware how they rise against, or trample upon the order of God, which is placed for their protection. And if they confess, repent and return, let them feel your union, love and blessing.

6. But if they refuse to hearken, after the first and second admonition, kindly entreat of them to attend the first meeting you have, and to stand between the brethren and sisters, at the lower end of the alley, and after singing a solemn song of praise to me, saith the Lord, request the whole family, in a solemn and feeling manner, to kneel down in prayer for this your poor brother or sister, whichever it may be, and pray that they may get hold of a broken heart.

7. But if they continue in their obstinacy of Spirit, request them to attend the next meeting, and stand in the same place. And after you have again sung a solemn song of praise to me, again request the family, in a solemn and godly manner, to kneel down and pray earnestly to me, that I would suffer that soul to feel the judgment of his or her own state; and if I send it not upon him or her in the course of twenty four hours, then my Spirit has ceased to strive with that soul, and it has become reprobated; for I have cut it off; therefore receive that soul no more into your union, saith the Lord.

8. It is the duty of those who are placed as Elders, or watchmen upon my walls, or as shepherds within the habitations of Zion, to hold the reins of government in my Holy Spirit, over every individual member in their family, by showing forth, at all times, in words, actions and feelings, and by their chaste and upright examples, that they themselves do walk in exact obedience to my holy will, as established in the order of their holy and spiritual calling:

9. That the feelings of every individual member in their family (that has traveled to any degree of victory over their fallen natures) may, at all times, gather to their Elders, in feelings of fear, love, reverence and respect; for here is the unction of my holy Anointing, that enables the soul that is forward ward, to reach the soul that is yet back and behind, and lead it on to my holy Kingdom. And it is in this line, and in this line only, that I have opened the door of salvation for any soul.

10. I do require, saith the Lord, that all of you who have a privilege in this day of my visitation on earth, — would learn how to seek after me aright. No one can find me in spirit and in truth, only through those that have traveled nigher to my holy Spirit than they have.

11. And remember ye, always to show and feel a reverence and respect to those that are before you; and in a special manner, to draw near, in feelings of tender love and respect, to those who are placed as your Elders; for — they have received of my anointing, thro' those that stand before them, sufficient for the protection & increase of every soul placed under their care, if they will be careful always to bend their feelings in subjection to what they are taught.

12. Hearken, all ye my people, saith the Lord God of the holy house of Israel; I warn you, in my kind and tender mercy, that ye never suffer one feeling of stubborn rebellion to rise against the least order which you are required to keep; nor in any way, against my watchful Shepherds whom I have placed in the different parts of Zion, to guard and protect, in the spirit of my Anointing power, my chosen flock; for a little giving way in your feelings to rise against, in this respect, will bring much darkness and suffering upon your souls: Therefore be wise.

Part VIII.

Of the duty calling and obligation of Trustees, who are appointed in the line and order of God, which I have established in Zion upon Earth.

1. The lot or order of Trustees may be composed of two or more of each sex, according as the wisdom vested in my Anointing may see fit, and the nature or extent of their business may require. And whenever they are appointed to this important lot of care and trust, it is their duty to labor and get hold of a true sense of that which the order of God, through his holy Anointing does require of them, in his Holy Camp, as faithful stewards in outward things.

2. I do require, saith the Lord, that they should be examples, possessing that saving and prudent spirit which your heavenly Parents, and your present Lead, have ever taught their children to keep, as the only means of fulfilling the order of your calling, and securing my blessing in outward things.

3. And no one that is called in this important place of care and trust, can be prospered or blessed with my Spirit, either for their own protection, or for the increase and prosperity of that temporal substance over which they are placed as guardian protectors; except they walk in strict obedience, fulfilling in the spirit and the letter, to the very best of their understanding, (agreeable to what they are taught by their Lead,) the order therein established.

4. Any one that is called in this place, saith the Lord, has no right to use one cent of my consecrated property for any selfish or partial motives, or for any extravagant use, in procuring things for their own convenience or aggrandizement, over and above what is allowed in the family or Church to which they belong, any more than any other member belonging to such Church or family; and they that do it, cut themselves off from my blessing, saith the Lord.

5. But if they need, or think they need any thing more or different, to enable them to transact the business of their calling, than what is allowed, or in common use in said family or Church to which they belong, let them apply in the line of order, and have free liberty & union before they obtain it. Then it can be sanctified to them, and not without, saith the Lord.

6. I do require that whenever Deacons or Trustees go out to transact business amongst the children of this world, they keep as correct an account of all their expenditures, whether the things purchased are for their own immediate comfort and support, or whether they be for the family or Church to which they belong, as any other member belonging to said family or Church is required to keep. And that when they return home, they give a correct account, specifying the particulars to the Trustee or Deacon that has been at home in his absence, whether he be the first, second or third, the same as any other individual is required to do.

7. The evil spirit seeks to take advantage, and has, in many cases, taken great advantage of those that are called to handle a great deal of money, and have it constantly with them.

8. How oft have I seen, saith the Lord, those who have been called to go out, and do business among the children of this world, standing around in public places, and where they had no business, with one foot projected out forward or sideways, with one hand in their trousers pocket, rattling and jingling their ~~mon~~ money, so as to appear big, like the children of this world, showing that they had got plenty of money.

9. This thing, saith the Lord, is an abomination in my sight; and those that maintain this sense & practice, have not been, and cannot be protected from defiling themselves with, and handling that which is still more unclean, saith the holy Spirit of God.

10. There is no lot or place in my Zion upon earth, wherein souls need to be more exact and punctual to keep every order given them, that they may find protection, than those that are called to live in the office, or go out amongst the world. I also do forbid any from going forth to worship me, knowingly having money in their pockets: their offerings will not be accepted if they do.

11. My Trustees, saith the Lord, stand in the door, through which all that is bought or brought in from amongst the children of this world, or from other families or Societies, of a temporal nature, must pass, before it can be sanctified, or used in said family or Chh. to which said Deacons or Trustees belong.

12. And I do require you to be exceedingly careful that ye let nothing pass through this door, in the way of coming into my sanctuary, but what is plain, modest and becoming my holy people, according to the laws therein established by the Spirit of my holy Anointing.

13. And all that is vended for Sale, must also pass thro' this door. And ye are also required to see that there is nothing passes out for sale, amongst the children of this world, only that which is strictly according to what you have been taught as becoming my holy people, according to what they profess.

14. The law of Zion does strictly enjoin upon every Trustee or Deacon to be at home as much as they possibly can, and do their duty. And when they are at home, to be busily engaged in doing some good with their hands, and labor to get hold of a spiritual sensation in their own souls, that they may find strength and support.

15. They must also be strict, and attend to their regular meals, as far as they possibly can; and not indulge themselves in having meals unnecessarily got one side, for the sake of getting something better than the rest. This thing is forbidden throughout Mount Zion; except it be in cases where real necessity requires it. But they should, as far as possible eat with the rest of the family, & such as they have.

16. They are also required to attend meetings as much as possible, and not let trifles hinder: for if they neglect to keep this law, they will surely run astray.

17. All the transactions of said Deacons or Trustees, must be subject to the control and instruction of that Anointing — vested in the Ministry and Elders belonging to said family or Church where they are called to act.

18. And every individual member is required to love, bless and respect them in their order and calling. Also you are all required to labor to strengthen them with your blessing, that ye may be helps one to another; for this I do require, saith your heavenly Father.

Part IX.

My holy Law, which I have established for the gathering of Souls into my Fold upon Earth, whether they be Children or Adults.

1. My holy gospel does forbid, saith the Holy One of Israel, that, when souls come to you, seeking after the way of salvation, and a privilege in my gospel, either for themselves or for their children, ye should, in any wise, be swayed from doing your duty, according as my Spirit requires, by reason of their poverty, their gold or their silver, or (if children) what they may be entitled to by heirship. For I have not called you to lust after their gold nor their silver; but to do your duty, and teach them the way of salvation, as you have been taught.

2. If a person is poor and ragged, and in debt, and says he desires to confess his sins, give him a chance, and teach him his duty. Then clothe him; and if he be an able bodied man, tell him he must go and pay all his just debts; for this the gospel requires; and then he may, if he will be faithful, return and have a home in Zion.

3. And when you take in children, ye are, in no case, to look to the outward possesions of their parents. Many of you were poor, destitute and fatherless children; but by this pure gospel ye have been made rich.

4. Now see, saith the God of Israel, (whose gospel is equal for all,) that ye are not guilty of unkind and uncharitable feelings towards the poor and distressed of this world, who apply to you for help, or for a privilege in this gospel, by which you have been made comfortable. If any are so ungrateful as to slight their tender cries on that account, their cries shall be held as a memorial in judgment against you; and them will I cause to enter my Kingdom, and you to be cast out.

5. The Law of Mercy and Justice does also forbid, that any children, under the age of fifteen years, should be taken in amongst my people, except they are bound by the best laws that belong to the state for that purpose. And this I do require the Trustees to see faithfully executed.

6. Whenever the leading influence, vested in the Ministry and Elders, (whose right it is, as respects the taking in of members, or moving them from place to place,) decide upon taking in a child, they are to spare no pains on their part, in doing all that is in their power, to have that child secured to them, according to the best law or statute enacted by the state in which they live, for that purpose.

7. And if they neglect, and do not their duty in this point, and that child gets hold of faith, and becomes attached to my gospel, and desires to live in it, and in this state is torn away by the merciless and cruel hand of its parent or relation, in consequence of the Trustees neglecting to do their duty, according to my holy laws, much of the sin which that child may afterwards commit, will I in judgment require at their hands, saith the Lord. For the protection of a soul in my holy work, must not be treated as a matter of so little consequence. But if you have faithfully done your duty, and the child cannot be retained, you are then clear from that child's sin.

Part X.

Of that pure and spiritual Union which I do require, saith the Lord, to exist between Male and Female, in my Holy Zion upon Earth.

1. Give ear unto my voice, all ye inhabitants of Zion, and learn what the true union of the Spirit is. For I have called you out from among the children of this world, whose god is their lust, and whose pleasure is in defiling each other in both body & soul. I have chosen and separated you therefrom, and given you a privilege in my holy Zion, that ye may learn the way of God in truth, while yet upon the earth, and follow the example of your blessed Lord and Mother.

2. You are called to dwell together as innocent lambs of my fold, each strictly keeping that order of distinction and separation which ye have abundantly been taught, both by those who have gone before, and those that still remain with you. This requires that ye should all be extremely careful, and never lay any temptations one before another, which have a tendency, in any way, to excite fleshly feelings, or that which your natures are prone to; for if ye do this, knowingly or willingly, you break the Laws of Zion, and commit sin thereby, and can in no way be justified, until you confess and repent of the same.

3. In all your conversation together, I do solemnly warn you, saith the Lord, as a father would warn his children, not to excite impure desires in each other's minds, neither by your words, actions nor feelings. And when you are together, and in any way begin to feel your natures excited, withdraw immediately from each other's presence, and war against that filthy spirit; for by remaining in this spirit, in the presence of each other, ye do thereby tempt the adversary of your souls.

4. My holy law does forbid that the different sexes should ever seek opportunities to be together alone; for this is strictly forbidden in Zion. For if you keep not your order, my spirit will not protect you, saith the Lord; but ye may be left to be overshadowed with that wicked influence, and do that which will cut you off from my people, and eternally disinherit you from that birthright in my Kingdom, which those who stand faithful through their days in time, shall surely obtain and enjoy.

5. But if, at all times, ye will keep your consciences clean, according to my holy order, which I have established in that respect, by being honest, and freely confessing to your Elders, you will never be left to sin unto death and a final separation in this respect; but will ever be able to feel a portion of my Spirit in your souls, warning you against the indulgence of that nature; for that nature, if indulged and gratified, will surely swallow up your souls in death, saith the Lord.

6. But if you keep your spirits clean, and your desires holy, you will be able to meet together, in the pure spirit of Christ and your blessed Mother, and make offerings that will be accepted; and the incense of your praise will ascend to my throne, through your heavenly Parents, and I will send my Angels to bless you with that blessing which shall not fail nor pass away from any faithful soul.

Part XI.

My holy Order which I have established in Zion, for the protection of such souls as are given, thro' their natural wisdom and great learning, to be laboring into great mysteries, (as they call them,) which have no connection with their present calling and duty, or their future welfare.

1. With all your wisdom and learning that nature can give, saith the Lord, tho you should pursue it until you destroy your own souls; yet in that sense, you never can, in truth, find out how to subdue one evil propensity. I have not chosen, saith the Holy One of Israel, the great ones of this earth, who are carnally wise in their own conceits, to reveal my will through them; but I have chosen those who sincerely felt that, in their own natural wisdom, they knew nothing of me aright.

2. My holy law is established in Zion for every soul that desires to be saved; and it strictly forbids that any should let their sense run to write and ponder upon such things as are in no wise connected with their present duty, and that which they have not been set to labor or write upon, nor even obtained union or liberty from that holy anointing in the Lead which I have placed for their protection.

3. Therefore all their searches and researches are useless; for the truth can never be known any further than it is gained by strictly keeping my holy order. For the spirit of falsehood, saith the Lord, will always be found in disorder.

4. But whenever the Lead find it necessary to set any of you to labor in these respects of which you can have no natural evidence to prove; and you labor and pray to me, and there place your dependence, I will give you the spirit of truth; and that will direct you to establish nothing but what is in perfect union and harmony with the established order and sacredness of my work with the children of men, from the foundation of the world to the present day.

5. Therefore I say unto all, Be wise, and spend not your day and time in vain: for remember that when it is is paped, ye can never recall that which ye have lost in useless and unprofitable labor.

Part XIII.

The Order and Use of dumb Beasts, which I have created for the Service of Man, and which I require my People, in the holy Habitations of Zion to observe and keep.

1. All playing with or idolizing the brutal creation is forbidden by my holy laws. All cruelty and wanton neglect lect of making them comfortable, according to their order and creation, is also strictly forbidden by my holy law, saith the Lord. And whoever there is among you that neglects to keep my holy law in respect to beasts, their offerings cannot be accepted, but I shall require them to answer in judgment, for every known and willful transgression upon this point.

2. I do also require, saith the Lord, and have, from the foundation of the world, that my people should not multiply unto themselves the use of horses, any further than what is indispensable for the use of travelling. There is no one species of animal in all my brutal creation, with which there has been, and still is, so much sin & wickedness committed, both in respect to cruelty, and also in respect to idolizing, as there has been, & still is, with the horse.

3. And I say, saith the Lord, there has been much transgression, yea, sin and wickedness, committed with that animal amongst my people. And I do require that all ye inhabitants of my Zion should mostly use in your services, my horned kind, and use them according to my law.

4. My law does also forbid that ye should make use, or retain in your possessions any kind of animals, or fowls, for the sake of their curiosity, or that have in any way been adulterated from the true order of their species, according to the order of their creation, by the wickedness of man.

5. Therefore observe ye my word, and keep my statutes, in this respect, that my blessing may rest upon that part of the animal creation which I do allow you to use, saith God, the Creator of all.

Part XIII.

Showing the sacred and solemn Obligations under which I have placed all who have been chosen and used by your heavenly Parents, as Instruments or Vessels through which to convey my Word and Will to you, in this my late Visitation of ministering Spirits and Angels _____ to the Inhabitants of my Zion upon Earth. _____

1. Bow down your hearts, and give ear unto me, all ye who have been, or may hereafter be used as mouths or instruments in my hand, to sound about my holy trumpet in Zion, that ye may learn true wisdom, that which cometh from me and my eternal Brightness, saith the Lord.

2. I do require that whenever you feel my Spirit upon you, ~~that~~ you should exceedingly fear and tremble in my presence, and in the presence of your heavenly Parents and holy Angels, whom I have, and forever shall clothe with my Spirit and my Word.

3. Take heed unto your way, saith the Lord, that ye sound forth nothing in my name, or that of your heavenly Parents, but what is in strict accordance with the line of my Anointing upon earth, which I have established for the protection and salvation of souls: for this my hand hath appointed, saith God, your Heavenly Father.

4. I do also require that all ye who have been chosen as instruments, should suffer and wade in deep, deep tribulation, that your passions and your natural feelings may be under the greatest degree of mortification, that they may not blend, in any way, with my spirit or gifts, to lead you astray.

5. Lest, instead of speaking that word which I, thro' your heavenly Parents, or the holy Angels in Heaven, have given you to speak, you sound forth your own word, blended with your own natural feelings and senses, and that in my name, to please the natural feelings & cravings of those that may hear you, or the cravings of your own fallen natures, which may have a great desire to be the bearer or instrument to reveal some great and hidden mystery, that your names might be sounded abroad, as being the bearers of that which God had, for ages, kept concealed from mortals, and now had revealed them through you.

6. The enemy has taken great advantage of souls, in many places, in this respect, of them that had been instruments through which my word of truth and beautiful gifts had been conveyed.

7. The laws of wisdom do forbid, saith the Lord, that the names of instruments, in any particular gifts or communications, should be retained by any, save the Ministry and Elders.

8. I do require, saith the Lord, that the Ministry and Elders do labor, in every place, to direct these things according to true wisdom, that the Holy Spirit be not quenched, nor the soul lost.

9. For with my Anointing, saith the Lord, have I placed my altar of Wisdom, upon which every gift that I send upon earth, whether by visions, revelation or inspiration, must be tried. And they that do not wish to have the gifts, of which they are the bearers, tried upon this altar, are none of mine, saith the Lord.

10. My holy law in Zion does require that no one should set the bounds of my holy work, or state the particular periods of time in which their shall great and remarkable revolutions take place. This is out of sight of the present order of your calling, and foreign from the present gift & order of your day, saith the Lord, which requires every soul to labor and gain a substance of my holy gospel in their own souls, thro' mortification and true tribulation, that they may always have an anchor in their own souls, that will hold them in my Kingdom of purity and holiness, both in time and in eternity.

11. Of the times and seasons know not my holy Angels in Heaven, saith the Lord; but I AM, the Everlasting hath reserved them in His own power.

12. My law for the protection of Zion, does strictly forbid that any instrument or soul therein should, in consequence of being cautioned and warned to be careful, (which is absolutely necessary for the soul's protection,) turn or indulge a sense to fight against that influence which I have suffered to come upon them; (for reasons of my own chusing;) for if they do, they will surely cut themselves off, and lose their own souls: for my sacred Spirit shall not be mocked, and the soul pass unpunished.

13. But I do require you all, saith the Lord, to keep closely united to your Elders, and be truly sincere in all that you do. Don't let your minds run and ponder upon great and hidden things; but labor for my pretty, little simple and solemn gifts.

14. And whenever you feel the influence of my invisible hand upon you, in any particular gift or communication, which you are required to make, go and communicate it freely to your Elders,

(or if it be in meeting, with their union,) and my Spirit shall direct you aright. For by keeping and walking in that sense of which I have spoken, there can no evil nor false influence come upon you.

15. And I do furthermore require, saith the Lord, that every soul in Zion should be filled with my holy fear, and labor, at all times, to posess a sacred and solemn sensation whenever they are in the presence of any who are under the particular and immediate influence of my holy and invisible power.

16. All heavy walking and loud talking, I do forbid at such times, saith the Lord, or talking any upon things that are foreign from your duty in that place; for if ye do, you will lose that sacred reverence which I do require you to keep at all such times.

Part XIV.

My closing Instructions, Blessings and solemn Warnings, saith the Holy One, to all my dear Children upon Earth, showing my Will respecting the holy Laws established for the Zion of my Likeness on Earth.

1. The spirit and substance of all this which ye have now heard, was established by me, through your heavenly Parents, at the beginning of my holy work in this land; and by my hand, has continued in my Anointing unto the present day; but, in many respects, great deviations and departing therefrom, have been made by the body at large.

2. And as the time has come for Zion to be again re-established in her order, her beauty and glory, your heavenly Parents have made intercession, through cries and supplication unto me, that I would condescend to send forth my record of her holy Laws; which in my loving kindness and charity to all, I have done.

3. And now I do require, saith the Lord, that each and every soul in Zion do make it their daily & solemn labor to keep my laws and walk in my statutes: for my condescension and loving kindness to you has been greater than ever was before showed to mortals on earth.

4. Think not that ye can keep the laws of Zion while blending with the forms and fashions of the children of the unclean!

5. Think not that ye are doing my will, while ye in your spirits, take part in the political strifes, contentions and divisions of the children of men!

6. Think not that ye can travel or forward advance in my holy Order, while indulging an insub-

ordinate feeling to your beloved Ministry or Elders, or to any order, counsel or regulation which my holy wisdom, thro' them, may establish!

7. Think not that ye can fulfill the order of your calling, in this day, while seeking for ease and indulgence, either in things spiritual or temporal! Nay, in no wise, saith the God of Israel.

8. For while ye are seeking after these things, or indulging them in your minds, you are violating my holy laws in Zion, and rapidly gathering unto yourselves that which must end in great darkness and extreme distress of soul, which my just and righteous laws will bring upon you. For according as ye have sown in disobedience; so in my judgment ye must reap the reward of your own doings.

9. Therefore have I condescended, saith the Lord of hosts, to give to all of you my solemn warnings, before it be too late; that ye may dwell surrounded with my protection on earth, and enter my everlasting Kingdom of glory and peace, in the endless ages of eternity.

10. And all of you who will faithfully keep my word, shall glow as the morning of beauty, whose leaf hath not fallen, nor its flower faded. And your heavenly Parents shall lead on the armies of Israel, equipped with flaming swords, to protect my ransomed.

11. Yea, saith the Lord, my ever watchful eye shall never never depart, nor my arm of strength be withdrawn from those who truly place their trust in me. I will send my ministering Angels with blessings to distil upon your souls, as dew upon a tender plant. And I will gather you under my wings, and overshadow you, that the Wicked One touch you not.

12. Yea, in my mercy will I prolong the days of my visitation on earth, that the ransomed, the redeemed of the God of Jacob may stand before my throne in garments shining white.

13. I do require, saith the Lord, that these my holy laws, with the union and sanction of my Anointing on earth, be distinctly read throughout all Zions habitations, according to the following order.

14. First. To be clearly and solemnly read to every member in this Church that is over the age of fourteen years, and is able to attend on the second sabbath of July, commencing at half past eight in the morning; and that whoever is appointed to read, must have, at least, three hours previous notice, that they may labor in prayer and tribulation, for a measure of that sacred and solemn sensation in which my holy laws were given.

15. And then, for six succeeding years, I do require them them to be distinctly read, once a year, in every Church that is established in gospel order, throughout the earth, in the following manner: The first three years, to read my holy and sacred laws on that day which you keep in remembrance and commemoration of the entrance of your blessed Lord and Savior into this world, commencing at half past eight o'clock in the morning.

16. The last three years, on the birth day of your blessed Mother Ann, commencing at the same time of day as on the three previous years. And directly after the reading of each time, I do require, saith the Lord, — that all bow low, eight times; then repeat the following words, with three more bows: I will keep — thy holy Laws — O Zion!

17. And let every soul, in truth, seal this promise with my holy and solemn fear in their hearts, saith the Lord, the Alfine and Omega.

New Lebanon May 13th 1840.

A short communication to the beloved Ministry and Elders, from Mother Ann, Father William and Father James.

Beloved Ministry and Elders, Mother Ann says that Father James has attentively read, for six days, six hours in each day, from God's own Book, the holy and general laws of Zion, which privilege we unitedly did intercede in prayer and humble supplication to our Heavenly Father for, and have passed through much tribulation to obtain, for our children upon earth.

And it is our united desire, since God has granted us this privilege, to communicate the record of them to you, in the manner that we have, and (if they meet your approbation) thro' you, to all our beloved children upon earth, that no one would be so ungrateful, and so destitute of the fear of God, as to make light of one sentence therein contained; for if they do, they will surely blast their prosperity: for nothing that is therein contained, is to be made use of as common things. But it is to be sacredly kept, and is that by which every soul must square their lives, that hold a place in the Zion of God upon earth.

For the people of God that now dwell upon the earth, do certainly live in a day in which the condescension and mercy of God is far greater, and more clearly shown than it ever was in ancient days of Kings or prophets, or in any preceding age or dispensation since the world began.

Therefore we do entreat and desire that ye would also entreat all to be wise and careful in what they say and do, as trifling with the holy things of God.- It is our united feeling, says Mother, that there is no soul that has found much of a travel in the work of God, but what may be benefited by hearing these, his holy laws, solemnly and distinctly read.

Father James says he has read as it was written, and it is our desire, says Father, that a true copy of this may be kept sacred in the Ministry, and by the Elders, so far as they may feel necessary; but to be circulated no further as common things. And it is also our desire, that those who may hear these laws read, would not make them a common subject of every day conversation, but ponder them in their hearts, that they may sink deep therein. For be assured, says Father they are not the cunning and devised fables of either man or woman; but they are the eternal laws of Zion.

Now, beloved Ministry and Elders, we commend this Holy Record into your care, to direct as you, in your best wisdom, may see fit. But if it be sent forth from this place, says Mother, it would be agreeable to us, to have the beloved Ministry, and all the Elders in this Church, sign and seal their names to it. With this, says Mother, receive our kind love and our everlasting blessing; and this our love & blessing we desire may go with, and be received wherever and whenever these holy laws are read.

We have now done our duty, says Mother, and we pray that every soul would labor and do theirs; — then the requirement of God will be fulfilled, and your heavenly Parents will be satisfied.

Now, says Father James, beloved Elders, receive the kind love and thanks of all your heavenly Parents, for your forbearance and condescension in giving time, that these things might be written, undisturbed, according to our desire.

Note. The Ministry were at Watervliet at the time these laws were written; but they had previously received intimation, by inspiration, that they were designed to be written, and given their approbation of the same.

New Lebanon Thursday morning, May 26th 184

The following are the Words of Father James to the Writer.

Mother Ann and Father William, together with myself, says Father James, are now all present, agreeable to what we communicated to your beloved Elders last evening, at the time we obtained their liberty and union for you to write whatever the holy and proclaiming Angel of God might read to you in our presence.

Therefore, says Father James, be in readiness by bowing your heart and soul to God, through your Elders and heavenly Parents, and write the words of the holy laws of Zion, which the proclaiming or sounding Angel of God will, in a few minutes, begin to read aloud in our presence, to you.

Six hours in a day, says Father James, will the Angel read aloud for you to write, and the rest of the time you are to labor under heavy sufferings and deep tribulation of soul, and so, undisturbed, continue the writing until the Angel shall cease to read. The Angel will commence reading from the same Book, says Father, that I read the fourteen parts, previously written, from; and he will number his first part fifteen, beginning where I left off.

Words of the holy Angel.

I am one of the proclaiming and trumpet-sounding Angels of God, your heavenly Father. My dwelling was never upon the earth, surrounded with a tabernacle of clay; neither is my habitation in the shades of death and darkness. But my dwelling is, and has been, for thousands of years, in the eternal light and brightness of God, my heavenly Father. And my office and calling has been to convey His word & will, in mercy and in judgment, to the children of men, for ages & ages past, from one dispensation of his grace and goodness to another, to the present time, through such means as he himself, from time to time, hath chosen.

And he hath now sent me to read, in the presence of your ever blessed Mother and those with her, a certain number of parts from his Holy Book, wherein is written the unchangeable Laws, for the Zion of his likeness upon earth. I shall begin to read at part fifteenth, where Father James left off. And in the course of this part will be comprehended the substance of that which I was sent to communicate to the Church in this place last sabbath, and which, in union with the beloved Elders, was done.

Part XV.

Of the holy and unchangeable Laws which God, your heavenly Father, hath established for all who desire to find access to his Holy Spirit, or protection beneath his hand, and for their separation from those that turn back.

1. Unto all you inhabitants of Zion, saith the Lord, who seek to know me in truth, give ear unto my voice, & hearken unto my words. Have I not chosen and called you out from amongst the wicked and the unclean, and gathered you into the peaceable fold of my Zion, where ye can, if ye will, enjoy the rights of conscience and true gospel freedom, by making that sacrifice which I require of all, before they can find an inheritance in my holy Kingdom, or peace and rest to their souls?

2. And have I not sent before you the spirit of my Anointing, to lead you in the path of peace, and the way of purity? Have I not placed faithful watchmen or Elders, daily within your reach, to teach you your duty, and encourage you when ye do well, and reprove you when ye do ill; that ye may never be at a loss to know your duty, in any respect, if ye will only apply in the line of order?

3. And furthermore, saith the Lord, have I not also selected you as a sheaf from amongst the many, or as a tree from the wilderness, to refine you, as with refiner's fire, and whiten you as with fuller's soap, that ye may be the objects of my peculiar delight and pleasure, above all people which I have created upon earth?

4. And have I not, in my everlasting kindness, charity and love, from the commencement of my holy work in this land, made known to you my laws, statutes and judgments, through your heavenly Parents, and my Anointed Witnesses? Yea, saith the Holy One of Israel.

5. And have I not, for the sake of those that are middle-aged and young, who never saw the faces, nor felt the heartsearching spirit of my first chosen and faithful Witnesses, whom I anointed with power to open the only door of full salvation, in this my last display of grace to man; now, within a few years past, opened the door of spiritual communication, directly from your heavenly Parents and ministering Spirits and Angels in eternity?

6. And particularly to those of you that are called to be their true and faithful children upon earth; and that too, in a manner far more clear and striking, (bringing with it evidence sufficient to convince every rational mind of its divine origin,) than what any of you now living, ever expected to see, hear or feel, while posessing a natural body.

7. Yea, saith the Lord, I have not withheld my blessing from you, nor given with a sparing hand; but I have poured them freely upon you, insomuch that there was not room in your hearts to receive them. And many of you have even wished that there would be no more of this kind of spiritual communication, and have given way to feel against, in your own souls; because your evil natures were disturbed, and your sins dreaded the light, and feared my searching power, saith the Lord.

8. The only way that any souls can know me in truth, is through those that stand in a nearer relation to me than what they have yet traveled to. And none shall find an entrance into the holy city, but such as come in at the door, and learn to love, fear and respect me in and through that order which I have placed for the manifesting of my Spirit in truth to them.

9. My holy laws do require that every inhabitant within the borders of Zion upon earth, should reverence and respect those that are before them. And that the middle-aged and young, in a special manner, should reverence and respect those that are older in years than themselves.

10. For if they slight, disregard, or rise against the counsel, reproof or instruction of those that are older, or those that have been more faithful to improve well their privilege in the gospel than what they have, they rise against my Spirit and my laws, and cut their souls off from my blessing, saith the Lord.

11. Yea, I do require all ages and classes, throughout the habitations of Zion upon earth, to learn this one and all important truth: That if ye would love, fear and reverence the Creator of your immortal souls, ye must love, fear and reverence Him, in those that stand nearer to His Kingdom than ye do; and in so doing, you will be sure to inherit the love, honor and blessing of Him who has been from the foundation of the world, and must ever remain the Author & Giver of all good.

12. But your evil natures, if not controlled by the cross of Christ, will cause you to feel and say the same in this day, as was spoken by Aaron and Miriam, in respect to my faithful servant Moses: Hath not the Lord spoken by us as well as by Moses? Therefore saith the Lord God of Israel;

13. Let that judgment which I caused, in my displeasure, to fall upon them, in smiting them with a loathsome disease, (and from which they never could have been restored, had they not humbled themselves, and entreated Moses to make supplications to me, in their behalf,) be an instructive lesson of warning to all of you that are called to inhabit Zion in this day. For a far worse disease will I cause to come upon your souls, if ye indulge this spirit, than what was sent by me upon the bodies of either Aaron or Miriam.

14. There are many among you, saith the Holy One, who have a desire and disposition to rise above, and trample under their feet, that which I have placed before them, and that which, if they do not own and acknowledge, according as my holy law directs, must and will forever debar them from an entrance into my holy Kingdom.

15. Many of the youth and young among you, who have, as yet, found but little travel in mortification and true tribulation, are extremely ignorant & blind, as respects their daily practice in these things; they continually work against their own best good and comfort, and will even feel against their Elders for reproving them for such misgoings and errors as must, if not left off, eternally separate them from the joys of Heaven, or a place in my Kingdom. And more than this have they also done, saith the Lord, in my sight.

16. How oft have I heard them say in their hearts;— You say, the Lord says so and so; but I say, you say so and so. I don't believe any thing about the Lord's saying so and so. You say that Mother and the good Spirits say so and so; but I don't know nor believe any thing the more for that. I would much sooner believe that you say and make all this yourself, from your own high sense, in wanting to show something wonderful and great.

17. You say that the Lord will bless you, if you do so and so; but if you depart from his law, his judgments will follow you, thus and so; but I care nothing about that neither. I don't believe in such a mess of harangue about God, Christ and Mother.

18. All these, and many more such like abominations have I seen, saith the Lord, at the very time my ministering Angels and Spirits, with your heavenly Parents, stood before you, loaded with my precious gifts & blessings, and entreating you to receive them with a thankful heart.

19. I say, saith the Lord, unto the ancients of the people, who are my firstborn, and for whom I have mansions prepared in my Kingdom, had it not been for your prayers, and the prayers of your heavenly Parents, supplicating me to extend my hand of forbearance and charity to those that have committed these abominations, and blasphemed my holy name in their hearts, I should have suffered my vengeance and judgments to have fallen on many, ere this day.

20. But Holy Advanse se ka la van; Yea, God is true and just; and in mercy will gather the ancients of his people home. But he has purposed heavy, yea, heavy and deep tribulation for those that succeed them. And if ye are faithful to treasure up, and be thankful for every crumb, you will be prepared, and able to endure whatever your heavenly Father hath for you, and will stumble not in the hour of trial.

21. There are many who will fall by the way. My holy laws require, saith the Lord, that ye should keep yourselves separate and entirely unconnected from those that turn back to serve the law of sin, that they may feel the judgment of their own wickedness. But there are a goodly number of the middle-aged & rising generation who will endure faithful to the end; and they shall be clothed in white, and crowned with everlasting glory, saith the Lord.

22. But I warn you to watch and pray, that ye be not abandoned unto temptation, and thereby left to deny that spark of holy faith which ye have received, and bring utter darkness over your souls, that ye cannot discern one ray of light in this pure and sin destroying gospel.

23. But if there be any of you, who have but little faith in my holy work, be strictly obedient to your teaching, and draw near to your Elders, brethren and sisters, and your faith shall rapidly increase: for without faith you cannot please me, your God and Creator.

Part XVII.

Of the Order and Government of Children who are gathered into Zion saith the Lord.

1. It is the duty of every family and order, whether in church relation or not, to pay strict attention to the order, government and instruction of their youth & children. My holy law does require, that whenever you gather in children among you, you should feel a heavy responsibility resting upon you, in respect to their bringing up & after tuition.

2. Your first labors with them should always be suitably calculated for their age and understanding, and directed in a sense and feeling which will be liable to strike their young and tender minds with a conviction of sin; that they may be able to make an honest confession of all their wicked works which they have previously done.

3. But you must first labor to feel, in some measure, their true state and situation, and tell them what is sin, in my sight, so far as you can feel would be profitable for their young minds, in bringing them to sense such & such things as you feel they have, in all probability, been in the habit of living in. You must also teach them how to confess it, and then have them do it for themselves.

4. No child that has attained to the age of seven or eight years, should ever be suffered to remain longer than four or five days, from the time that they were first taken in amongst you, without having suitable labours made with them, adapted to their age and understanding, and calculated to impress upon their young and tender minds, saith the Lord, a true sense of the difference between right and wrong; between that which is pure, and that which is filthy and unclean.

5. You must all remember what your ever blessed Mother, and those with her, taught respecting these things. To bring up children in the fear of God, and in the way of purity, never suffer them to go on, from day to day, and from week to week, with fleshly works of uncleanness concealed and unconfessed. If you do, the adversary of their souls will be getting stronger and stronger hold of them.

6. Never suffer yourselves to make play-mates or equals of children. And in regularly organized families or orders, there should always be one or two males selected and appointed by the leading influence, as the case may require, whose immediate duty should extend in direct application to, and in behalf of all the male children in that order or family. And so, in like manner with the females.

7. And no one that is set in order to take care, or labor with children, can, in any way, be justified in letting any one that is placed under his charge, go unreproved, who has been wilfully disobedient, and does not confess it.

8. And I do furthermore require, saith the God of Israel, that none in the habitations of my Zion upon earth, should ever suffer themselves to meddle with a child, in any way whatever, when under the influence of madness or passion; for if you do, you will be guilty of a great sin; and I shall hold you accountable for the wicked impressions made upon that child's mind, while in a fit of your passion.

9. Children should not be blamed or faulted for every little childish notion that, in itself, is not conducive to any thing wicked or wrong; for that would have a tendency to discourage and dishearten them.

10. But whenever those whose duty and calling it is to watch closely the power & strength of the various natural, filthy and wicked dispositions, (to which all are prone; and their strength and power over the soul is increased just in proportion as they have been gratified and indulged, from time to time,) do perceive that the children, in their recreation and plays, are led into a still further indulgence of those things which must and will, inevitably, tend to their corruption; then it becomes your duty, saith the

Lord, to make choice of such plays and recreations for them, as will, in your best wisdom and judgment, lead their sense from their previous wicked indulgences.

11. You must never suffer yourselves, under any consideration whatever, to say or do, or make use of any transaction or power whatever, that can give any just occasion for the children to feel that you make use of underhanded and unfair means; for this would be a ruinous thing to a child, and would inevitably fix a secret feeling of hatred and disrespect to any order or government, either natural, moral or divine.

12. But you must, at all times, labor sincerely, to establish such laws, rules and regulations for the children, as are right, reasonable and just, adapted to their little capacities and understandings.

13. I furthermore do require that the government of children, so far as relates to any kind of punishment or severity, should be administered in its proper order and place, and not taken into the hands of every one, just as they may feel. But whenever you see children doing that which my holy gospel does forbid, it is your duty to reprove them, in a solemn and godly manner; use but few words in your reproof, and bid them desist and go to their duty.

14. But if they refuse to obey when spoken to, it is your indispensable duty, and that which I do require of you, saith the Lord, to take the first opportunity and open it, just as it was, to those who are placed with the charge of said children; and they must look into the matter, & give the child or children, as the case may be, a fair opportunity and chance to confess the whole matter, honestly, if they will.

15. It now becomes the duty of those placed in charge of the children, after hearing both sides of the question, to labor in their spirits to feel whether there was any just occasion given by the elder to provoke the ~~young~~ younger to use saucy and unbecoming language, and disobey the requirements of the older. And if you, in any way, feel at a loss in your own feelings, how to decide for the good of the child or children, after you have labored solemnly in your own soul, go to your Elders, and there ask counsel.

16. But if you are satisfied that there was no just occasion given to the child; (which matter, in respect to the older, should never be investigated in presence of the younger, if posible to avoid it; for this would have a bad effect;) it is your duty to require that child, in your presence, before attending meeting, to make a humble confession, and acknowledge the transgression, and ask the forgiveness of him whom he has disobeyed, and talked saucy & unbecoming to; for this is a distructive sin in youth & children, and should never be passed over, unnoticed or unreproved by their Elders.

17. But if you have good reason to believe there was a provocation given the child, let his or her honest confession to you suffice; carry the matter no further as respects the child. My holy law in Zion, does require that children in all cases and circumstances, should be governed, as far as possible, without the use of the rod, or any kind of corporeal punishment.

18. But you will often find that children, in this age of the world, saith the Lord, are corrupted in the days of their infancy, and allowed, indulged, & even instructed by their parents and others, in the most foul, beastly & unclean habits and practices, in almost every shape and manner that can be named.

19. And you cannot avoid taking many of this class; for my salvation is free, and all must have an offer. And they that comply with its requirements, are the ones that I have chosen, saith the Lord. I do my work by means of my own chusing.

20. And when you find that you have children among you, under the age of twelve or fourteen teen, who are given to lying and stealing, and who rise in open disobedience to your word and teaching, and you have labored with, and entreated of them to leave off such wicked and ruinous habits and practices.

21. And after having sincerely labored to show them the consequences that will inevitably follow those who live in, and indulge the habits and practices of such things, and they refuse to reform, or render obedience, it shall be lawful for the caretaker of such children, after having fairly and truly opened the matter to his own Elders, to make use of small rods for the correction of such children. But all kicking, pounding or striking is forbidden, saith the Law Given in Zion.

22. I do also require that every caretaker of children, in my Zion on earth, should feel themselves under the same parental obligations towards the children under their charge, as a dutiful parent ought to do; and always to govern them in this sense; and labor, at every suitable opportunity, to lead their minds to contemplate upon holy and sacred things, with solemn and godly fear.

23. But whenever you see there is any one that inclines to make light of divine, spiritual and sacred things, let that child feel the severity of your spirit against all such like indulgences.

24. And I do furthermore require, saith the Lord, that all males who are gathered into my inner court, or Chh. relation, when taken from among the smaller children, be placed under the particular charge and tuition of some suitable individual, appointed for that purpose, until he reach the age of eighteen years.

25. And I do require that the person so appointed, ~~he~~ should feel the burden of leading, governing and directing said youth in the path of his duty: for such youth should not come so forward as to have free access to the Elders, in common with the rest of the family, until they arrive at this age. And the same of all females until sixteen years of age.

26. You will find it necessary to vary in some instances, according to the various dispositions of the youth.— All those who are called to take charge of youth or children, are at all times required to keep all things— clean and open to their Elders, as respects themselves and those under their immediate care; for they are, in all respects, required to yield strict subordnation.

27. And my law in Zion doth require, saith the Lord, that you should, at all times, labor fervently to impress upon the minds of the youth and children, the necesity and importance of their laboring, at all times, to have their delight and element in doing good; instead of having it fixed in that which is light and vain, and always tends to impoverish rather than enrich the soul.

28. They should always be brought to feel resigned in their spirits; and those who stand as their Elders, should never feel satisfied or at rest respecting them, when this is not the case. Whether they be in meeting with those that have assembled to worship me, or whether they are about their temporal duties, they should have that mortification placed upon them which will do away their rebellious spirit, which rises in opposition to that which is before them.

29. Children should never be allowed, (where it can be avoided,) to intermingle, unnecessarily, with the members of the family; but they should be kept, as much as they consistently can be, by themselves, attended by those who are set in order for that purpose.

30. And I do require, saith He who seeth not as man seeth, that ye should not be backward in taking in as many children as you believe you can, by exerting yourselves in order that they may learn my holy will, as you have learned it, protect; and not cast them off because they are poor, and bring a burden upon you, and cause you to feel tribulation on their account, ~~in order that they may learn my holy will, as you have learned it~~, and say within your hearts, I don't want to be plagued and bothered with such creatures—Let them go and grow up in sin, for what I care; its nothing to me.

31. But I say, saith the Holy and Just One, that all who indulge this kind of sense, will find in the end, that it is something to them, and a weighty something too.—For no such like sense has been extended to you, neither from your heavenly Parents, nor any before you; and ye shall in no wise go unpunished, if ye extend it to others, saith the Lord God of Israel. This is my holy law respecting children, saith the Lord, until I shall see fit, thro' the spirit of my Anointing, to establish a further order.

Part XVII.

Of my divine requirements in respect to a saving and prudent spirit that nothing which my hand hath blessed you with, be lost through your careless neglect.

1. This my holy law, which, when truly kept, is pleasing and delightsome in my sight, and will never fail to bring a blessing in temporal things, has been taught abundantly, from the very earliest period, both in the first and second appearance of my Two Anointed Ones.

2. But many whose habitation is now in my Zion, and especially those of the middleaged and younger class, have become astonishingly blind and careless in this respect; displeasingly so to my Holy Spirit, saith God, your Eternal Creator.

3. Will not a wise and careful father withhold his temporal substance from such of his children as he knows will spend it in rioting, drunkenness and extravagance, and bestow it upon such as have proved themselves obedient to his counsel, wise, prudent and saving, and thankful for the least crumb of that which he hath given them? Surely he will, saith the Lord; — and so will your heavenly Father.

4. When any of the inhabitants of Zion get a sense that it costs more to save a thing than it is worth; because they have to take a little pains, contrary to their natural, wasteful and lavish sense, I say unto such, saith the Lord, in such a sense as this, they are entirely ignorant, as to the worth of that thing, even to a kernel of grain, as it respects my blessing, if it be saved, or cutting it off, if it be carelessly destroyed.

5. For I say unto you, saith He in whose power all things are, that obedience is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of your own carnal wills and extravagant ways; for in them I have no delight, but great displeasure.

6. Therefore I say unto all you who name the name of my people, that my law does strictly enjoin upon all, to save all that is savable, whether it be for the purpose of eating, drinking, wearing, or for fuel to burn in your houses, or to use in any other manner; except in new countries, where it becomes necessary to burn the fuel, in order to clear the land.

7. And my holy laws, statutes and judgments, for the safe-going of the children of my Zion upon earth, do also forbid the indulgence of any one beyond the bounds of true temperance, according as ye are taught by your visible Lead. For this spirit to indulge, because you have a plenty, either in eating, drinking or wearing apparel, would be tantamount to the spirit that would trample it under your feet, and waste & destroy it in that way. They are both alike, equally in the wrong, and displeasing in my sight, saith the Holy and Just One.

8. But when ye gather up all the fragments, — that nothing be lost, and bestow upon the poor of this world, who are in real need, and suffering for the want of these things; then do my holy Angels come smiling before my throne, with these joyful tidings. And I never fail to load them with my blessings in return, saith the Lord God of your salvation, who sitteth upon the throne.

Part XVIII.

Of my holy Laws respecting your Meeting Houses and places for sacred Worship, where you assemble to make Offerings unto me, saith the Lord, and of the solemn and sacred Order of kneeling before me.

1. I seek for such to worship me as have clean hands and pure hearts; and such, and such only, are the true worshipers of my Holy Spirit. And they that dread to assemble together, according to the appointed times & seasons, for this purpose, I loathe their offerings, saith the God of Israel; for they are unworthy; yea, unworthy souls they are, and they shall receive their due reward. For the stains of their sins and iniquities are yet remaining unwashed from their souls, by reason of their darkness and impenitent hearts, that have not bathed in my waters and purifying streams of true repentance.

2. But they that are zealous to prepare themselves, according to what they are taught, and really count it as the greatest privilege that souls can have in this world, (for such it surely is,) I never fail to clothe them with a portion of my Spirit, whether they are sensible of it at the time or not. And this clothing is a shield to them against evil and tempting spirits.

3. And if you will continue faithfully to prepare yourselves, and be free, simple and zealous when you present yourselves to worship me, you will rapidly hasten your travel, and find that my garment is a shield, that the wicked one toucheth you not; neither will he have power to do it while you keep this garment on, saith the Lord.

4. And my holy law does further more strictly forbid that there should be any engravings, sculptures, pictures or images, or likenesses, either of man, beasts, birds, or any living thing, or the likenesses of flowers or inanimate things, either upon iron, brass, wood or stone, or any other kind of metal, be brought into my holy sanctuary, where ye assemble to offer up praises unto me in sacred devotion.

5. But I require that every thing that is attached either to the inside or the outside of such buildings and places, should be perfect and plain, free from all unnecessary embellishments: for in this my last display of grace to man, I leave no room for half-way work, either in things inward or outward.

6. I have not called you, saith the Lord, to gain a half way gospel, or a half way salvation. Hundreds and hundreds of souls, saith the Lord, have already fallen off, as withered branches, for this very reason that they wanted this halfway sense, and this halfway work to answer the purpose of their calling, which thing is utterly impossible, saith the God of your salvation. For your calling and privilege is far greater than was ever made known or given to mortals on earth before, since the foundation of the world.

7. My holy law doth strictly require, saith the Lord, that ye should, at all times, and in all cases and places, reverence and respect my sacred and holy order of kneeling in thanks, prayer or supplication before me. And it is your duty, at all times, to unite and humble yourselves, when my Spirit is at work upon any one in your presence, in this line; and never be talking, making a noise, or doing any kind of work, when in the presence of any who are in this solemn and sacred attitude of humbling themselves before me.

8. The time has come, saith the Holy One, for Zion to be purged from her idols; and I do require that all things, pertaining to her most sacred places, be made right first.

9. And I do furthermore require, saith the Lord, that when any of you have occasion to come into these places that are devoted for your sacred worship, either for the purpose of making any necessary repairs, or cleaning up and putting things in order, that ye should make no unnecessary noise, nor have any boisterous or loud talking nor laughing.

10. But my holy Laws, saith the Lord, do require you to feel a sacred fear and reverence at all such times, and in such places; for it is in these places that some of my holy and ministering angels constantly dwell, whether you sense it or not. They never leave the place so long as it is devoted and consecrated according to my holy Laws, & you use it for a place to assemble in sacred devotion.

Part XIX.

My holy Law, saith the Lord, respecting the adorning of your persons, trimming your beards, cutting your hair, and introducing new manners of clothing or forms of dress, preparing your food, and the qualities thereof.

1. I do require, saith the righteous and holy Lawgiver in Israel, that all my inhabitants throughout Mount Zion, should labor to clothe their persons alike, and in uniformity. Not because you, in your different Societies, feel that this color or that color, or this or that manner, form or fashion is a little cheaper, and a little more agreeable to your feelings, and a little more like the Canaanites around you, (or the children of this world.) You should not give way to bring in that which will break the uniformity.

2. But if I have a standard or center of union in Zion, saith the Lord, then labor, so far as is in your power, to become like unto it. All adornings of your persons, in any way, for looks' sake, beyond the standard given, is forbidden by my holy law, and has been from the beginning, saith the Lord.

3. I do require that all who have grown to manhood, as a standard rule, should trim their beards twice a week, and not some trim their beards three or four times a week, for looks' sake, and others go with beards trimmed only once. This is not keeping my law of uniformity, neither in the letter nor in the spirit of it. I also require that your earlocks should be cut square with the bottom of the ear, leaving no wing projecting towards the nose or mouth.

4. My law requires that no males should wear their hair unusually long, either before or behind, or on any part of their heads. Such as are in health, and have a thrifty growth of hair, should have it cut once in four or five weeks. All following the forms & fashions of the children of this world, or of your own natural fancies in cutting your hair, contrary to the example and teaching of your visible Lead, my holy law does forbid.

5. I also do require that ye who have full heads of hair, should at all times, keep the greatest portion of your foreheads uncovered, with the hair cut in a straight line along the forehead, and gradually circling from above the eye downward to the earlock.

6. My law does forbid that any who have full heads of hair, should make any artificial application of liquids or substances, or the binding of bandages around their heads, for the purpose of sticking their hair, or causing it to adhere close to their heads. But you may wash your heads, faces and bodies in water, and let that suffice, saith the Lord.

7. I do also require, that the raiment and clothing for the bodies of my people on earth, should be regulated through and by one uniform influence, according to my holy law. I do require, saith the God of Israel, that the clothing and raiment for every adult male in Zion, be brought, as fast as possible, into the following order, & so to remain until I shall see fit to alter it, through my holy Anointing.

8. Firstly: Of all kinds of woollens worn for an outside dress by the males; all surtouts, coats and jackets, to be of a brownish drab; and all frocks of a lightish gray; and all trousers, whether wholly wool, or in part cotton, of a reddish brown.

9. Secondly; Of cotton and wool, or linnen worn by the males; jackets to be of a lightish blue; trousers striped white and blue. Cotton and linnen trousers, and also frocks for common and every day use, will have to be more variable in their colors, saith the Lord; but I require you to keep them as much in uniformity as posible. Thin frocks, for summer use, the uniform color to be reddish brown.

10. And I do also require that all kinds of woollen stuffs, worn for outside dress for females, should be after the following order: Firstly; All their woollen cloaks of a brownish drab: woollen cloth gowns, for common use, of a reddish brown; also for nice use, of a brownish drab. Secondly; All their cotton and wool, of a reddish brown. Cotton for summer use, white, or very light striped.

11. I do require, saith the Lord, that the inhabitants of my Zion upon earth, should become more uniform and alike, in all these outward things; and if ye know not for what purpose, I know, saith the Lord; therefore hearken to my voice.

12. The laws of God, your Creator, do also require that there should be as much uniformity throughout the borders of Zion, in respect to their temporal support, food and drink as is posible, consistent with the different situations where they are located.

13. Thus saith the Lord God of your salvation, and of your peace and consolation, I have beheld with displeasure, the two different party feelings that have been growing in the Zion of my glory upon earth, for several years past, each party laboring to carry their own point to such an extreme as to cause a division of feeling and a breach of union, which has placed both parties in the wrong.

14. But, saith the Lord, you were counselled by your Lead to proceed in a very different manner from what many of you have done. It was my Spirit working through the spirit of my holy Anointing, to bring about a check upon that unpeachable habit, which many of my children in Zion had acquired, (by reason of the great abundance which I had blessed them with, for many years,) of indulging their natural and hankering appetites, contrary to the teaching and instructions given in the first planting of the gospel, and subversive of the true principles, nature and increase of my work upon earth, which is founded on self-denial, both in body and mind, saith the Lord.

15. Altho many of you say it came from the children of this world; it is true, the order of my providence is at work among the children of men, in this line, and in many other ways. But judge ye not my Spirit, saith the Lord, because I am pleased to send it through my Anointing, to the inhabitants of my Zion upon earth, at the same time it is at work among the children of this world.

16. You were counseled to let each other alone, and enter into no arguments one with another, respecting your victuals, or respecting this matter at all. As it was mostly intended for the younger class, they had liberty, and as many more as felt a desire, to live upon such things as were more in the order of my vegetable creation, and see if they did not feel as well and as rugged as when they lived upon that which was mostly of the animal class.

17. This was given for an experiment, and the cooks were instructed accordingly. But as soon as there was any difference perceived, from what previously had been upon your tables, a faultfinding spirit at once commenced his evil influence upon both parties.

18. But this evil spirit hath, with my assistance, been, in a great measure, put down, saith the Lord; and I have sent my holy Angel to read unto you a certain number of parts contained in the Book of my Holy Laws, for the Zion of my delight, and this part is with the rest. And my law doth also forbid that ye should ever again open the door for this evil spirit to get in amongst you, by disobeying the counsel and instruction of my Anointing through your visible Lead.

19. I now do require, saith the Lord, that all ye inhabitants of Zion should give ear unto my voice, and hearken unto my words.

20. My children in Zion have, for many years, been unwisely running into the habit of increasing the use of animal flesh, and the fat of swine and fed beasts, much to your own distress and disease of body which you might in a great measure have escaped, had you subsisted upon that which was more in my vegetable class, and less stimulating.

21. Also your extravagant habit of frying and baking with the fat of swine and other beasts, to that extent to which ye have habituated yourselves, for many years past, is extremly injurious to the inhabitants of my Zion, and especially to those of the younger class and rising generation, whose habits and customs have already become so eagerly egaged to seek after indulgences, both in their appetites and propensities of nature, which are inseparably connected, (when indulged for gratification,) that my Holy Spirit, and the gospel of Christ and you blessed Mother can find but little room in their souls.

22. I do require that those who have been in the habit of making a constant and flush use of these things, and in the manner before mentioned, should labor until they can feel comfortable and do with one half as much as ye have previously been accustomed to use. And when you have gained it, you will find much benefit from this course, saith he who knoweth what is.

23. I do also require that, throughout Zion's habitations upon earth, that children under the age of fifteen, should be kept mostly upon milk and plain vegetable food: for this is far better for them, in every respect. Therefore, saith the God of Israel, I require all my children to be wise.

24. I have a standard on earth, saith the Lord, from which all the inhabitants of my Zion may learn how to shape their course in all things, and ensure my everlasting love and blessing, saith the Holy One.

25. My eternal law of Wisdom doth also forbid that any of my inhabitants of Zion should make use of any strong and intoxicating liquors, save that which is found necessary by the physicians to use in medicines.

26. But if their be any from the middle-aged class onwards to old age, who feel that they really need to make use of cider, my law does not forbid it. But I do strictly enjoin upon all to see and know that they do not make an intemperate use of it, but with care and moderation within the limits and bounds which are set by my holy Anointing.

27. But those downward from the middle class, will prosper and succeed much better without it; therefore my Law requires that they should train themselves up in that line. But if they have a desire, in warm weather, they may make a very moderate use of small beer.

28. Thus saith the Lord, unto all who may hear my words that are contained in this part; All common conversation together, giving of opinions, or judging of its authority, is strictly forbidden by my holy Law, saith the Lord. But I require you strictly to follow, and adhere to that counsel and instruction given you through my holy Anointing, in your visible Lead, and my blessing of peace shall rest upon you.

Part XX.

In this the closing part of all that I have directed my holy and sounding Angel to read at this time, in the presence of your heavenly Parents, I give unto all you, my Inhabitants of Zion, saith the Lord, weighty and solemn Warnings, as a kind and tender Parent would warn his faithful Children to be ware of their deadly Foes.

1. Through and by the prayers and supplications of your heavenly Parents unto me, that I would grant the reading of a certain number of parts of my holy law to all the inhabitants that are called by my name upon earth. In my mercy and condescension, I sent my holy Angel with the Book. And from this Book did Father James, in presence of the rest of your heavenly Parents, read fourteen parts, which ~~which~~ were correctly written. This was all that there was then liberty obtained to read. Six days was he in reading the fourteen parts. And then I sent my holy Angel for the Book.

2. On the Angel's return to me, saith the living and true God, he again brought the prayers & supplications of your heavenly Parents, that I would in my mercy and wisdom, send one of my holy and proclaiming Angels to bring the Book again, and read aloud, from part fourteenth to part twentieth; which I did condescend to do.

3. And now, saith the Lord, I call upon each and every soul among you, to listen unto my words, and not let your ears be dull of hearing, nor your eyes of seeing, nor your hearts of receiving; but lay up a good store and treasure in time of plenty, that ye may have wherewithal to live and subsist upon, when there shall be a famine.

4. These holy laws, in spirit and in substance, ~~to~~ have been planted from the laying of the foundation of the gospel in Zion, by my two Anointed Ones upon earth, saith the Lord. But I never before condescended to have them sent forth in this form, and read for regular drafting, (so far as they go,) from my holy Book. But this I have done through the entreaties, prayers and supplications of your heavenly Parents.

5. And knowing the subtilty of the Devil, with all his raging foes, against Zion, and her inhabitants upon earth, I have sent you these laws in my own Name, and in such language as you can easily understand, plain and simple, saith the Lord, that every soul among you should be left without an excuse, that if ye err on the right hand or on the left, ye may know ye are doing it in disobedience to my holy commands.

6. Therefore, let none of you say within your own hearts, This is the invention of man or of woman. If ye will not believe it for the word's sake, I say unto you, saith God your Creator, believe it for your own soul's sake. For I say unto you, If you slight and disregard it, you will surely find, when it is too late to recall your steps, or repent of the course you have taken, that these laws were my solemn, weighty and eternal truths, and those by which all souls, in time and eternity, shall yet be judged.

7. But all of you who will be faithful, and strictly follow the counsel and teaching which you have had, and may hereafter have, by my holy Anointing, through your visible Lead, you will never be guilty of willfully breaking one law herein contained, saith the holy and righteous Lawgiver.

8. Tho some of you should live to see days when Zion shall be compassed with armies; yet in the faithful observance of my laws and statutes, you shall be safe. Tho you should live to see the number few, and the remnant small, of my holy people on earth; yet no one on earth shall ever live to see an obedient soul fall from this pure and holy gospel.

9. But let the high, lofty and exalted imaginations of man drop down low, in the valley of Serāran and humility: for the earth doth groan beneath the load of sin and abominations which she doth carry, and the inhabitants thereof are fast ripening for my judgments and desolation. And the time cometh, saith the Holy and Just One, that my long forbearance & tender mercies to a stiff-necked & rebellious generation must have an end.

10. Then will I gather the holy Angels around my throne, and gird on them my helmet, shield & buckler, and give them my rolls of wo! wo! to the inhabitants of the earth! The sun upon whom shall cease to shine, and the moon to give her light, and the stars shall withdraw their dazzling glitters, that many parts of the earth may become scenes of gloom and desolation, visited by my just judgments, saith the Lord.

11. For the rattling of their chariots, loaded with abominations in their hands, and blasphemy in their mouths, sweeping over the earth, and grinding the faces of the poor to powder, has come up before me, saith the Lord, for an everlasting memorial against them.

12. But unto you that fear my name, and keep my laws and statutes unspotted, I will gather you in the hollow of my hand, and protect you from the judgments and desolation, which my destroying Angels are sent to pour upon the inhabitants of the earth, who have filled up their cup of abominations to running over, saith the Lord God of hosts.

13. Your whole duty, saith the Lord, is comprehended in few words: Fear and love me, keep my commandments, deal justly, walk humbly and love mercy; and my Holy Spirit shall never be far from you; and ye will not be in fear or dread of death, judgment or eternity. For your life will please Him in whose power all things are, and by whom all things were created.

14. It is my will, saith the Lord, with the approbation of my Anointing on earth, that these last six parts of my holy laws, be read in the same order that the other fourteen parts were directed to be read, commencing at half past one in the afternoon of the same day.

15. And I do require that all should feel my holy fear, and take a solemn sense of them when they are read, and meditate them in their hearts. And let none make use of any of the subjects contained in the foregoing twenty parts for common talk, or in a light and vain manner; for they are sacred, and sacredly to be kept.

16. And when the reading of this last part is finished, let all my people bow three times, then repeat the following words with three more bows:

Even so Lord, let it be, Amen.

New Lebanon, Saturday evening, May 30th 1840.

A short Communication from the holy Angel to the Ministry and Elders.

I have read, saith the holy and proclaiming Angel, for three days past, six hours in each day, these last six parts, from the holy Book of the Lord your God, containing His pure and holy laws, for the Zion of His likeness upon earth. And, saith the Angel, let no soul add nor diminish from what is therein contained. But let each and every one fear before the Lord your God, & tremble in His presence. For surely He will award to each and every soul his just due, according to the greatness of the privilege he hath given him, and the clearness and bright shining light of the day in which he has lived.

These six parts, saith the holy Angel, I now do command, in the presence of your heavenly Parents, into the hands of the beloved Ministry and Elders, to do with them as their wisdom directs; and if approved, to be signed and sealed, as directed in the othe fourteen parts. There is nothing herein contained, but what God does require his people strictly to keep, saith the holy Angel.

I have a Roll whereiin is written these words, Love! love! from God your heavenly Father. To be received by every truly honest hearted soul, at the close of the reading of his holy laws, by repeating the words of the Roll, with four bows, and then four mild shouts, in solemn reverence.

My everlasting love and bleping I now send with this, saith the Holy Al'farine Secaran.

Testimony of the Holy Angel to the Ministry & Elders, respecting the Birth-day of our every blefsed Mother.

Thus saith the sounding Angel, We in Heaven

did rejoice and bow before the throne of God, for His merciful and all-wise purpose in again opening the door for the restoration of Israel, by sending the second appearance of the Spirit of his beloved Son, to those upon earth, through this chosen and selected female, whom God did appoint and anoint to be the spiritual Mother of all that should hereafter enter the completed order of His New and spiritual Creation, either on earth or in Heaven; and before whom we bow, saith the Angel, with reverence and respect. And she does stand at the head of the New Creation, in her order and place, with the Lord Jesus Christ, your Savior.

In remembrance and commemoration of whom these Laws were directed to be read, for six years to come; the first three on the 25 day of December, which is the Birth-day of Christ. And the last three on the 29th of February, which is the day you may keep in remembrance of your blessed Mother, and for the reading of God's holy laws. For we Angels in Heaven, do commemorate the periods of time that the Two Anointed Ones were sent to open a door and way of salvation to a lost world.

New Lebanon, Sabbath-morning May 31st 1840.

A short Communication from all our heavenly Parents, to the Ministry and Elders, respecting these twenty parts of God's holy Laws.

"Yea, (says our ever blessed Mother,) it has truly been thro' our prayers and intercessions to God, that these laws have been obtained, to send forth in, and with your union, to the inhabitants of Zion, in this form. For here is the center where all must look; and from this place they must be sent, if sent at all. The scattering and dividing power of evil is strongly seeking to get the advantage of my children on earth, (says Mother,) and I do entreat them to keep closely in my fold, that the prowling wolves destroy them not."

"Yea, (say all our heavenly Parents,) you have been fed with the food of Angels; and the bread of Heaven we have given unto all our children, in songs divine, and gifts sublime and holy. And we do require that they should use and improve all these precious gifts, in destroying their own evil natures, and drawing nigh unto God and to us. In so doing, they will do the work which we have for them; and the virtue of these precious gifts of God, with which you have been abundantly blessed, will not be lost, as respects their own souls' salvation."

"For I say unto all my children on earth, (says Mother,) that name the name of Christ or of me, take heed unto your ways, and watch well your goings; for the heart-searching power of God slumbereth not, altho it may wait with patience and forbearance for a season, (after having sufficiently warned them,) for them to wash by an honest confession, from every filthy pollution.

"But if you think to mock the tender mercies of God and your heavenly Parents, by laboring to keep your filthy, abominable and fleshly works covered from your Elders—my faithful witnesses; and still be able to remain in the habitations of Zion, you are awfully—awfully mistaken. For the Lord God of Heaven is searching through your camps, with his lamp in his hand. He will search and search, separate and divide, until he has put all under his feet that is opposed in spirit to his pure and holy laws."

"Yea, (say your ever blessed Parents,) the time is even at the doors, that the Lord will say unto a certain class, who have trifled with his word, and refused to keep his sacred laws of purity, "You that are filthy, remain filthy still; for I cut you off from my habitations in Zion, and separate you from my people, saith the Lord God: for my Spirit ceases to strive with you any longer. You have forfeited your day, - mocked my word, and slighted the offers of salvation." The Spirit of God will not bear and forbear with sin & sinners in Zion to that extent which it hath previously done."

"But (says Mother) tho you should be often overcome with sin, and with the flesh, and are faithful, whenever this is the case with you, to keep His sacred law in this respect, which requires you to go and confess it, honestly to your Elders, before you go into meeting, His forbearance will never be withdrawn from you. For such will surely gain the victory, and be able to keep themselves, that the wicked one toucheth them not."

"But it is to that class that dig deep to hide their sins that His forbearance will surely cease, and that speedily; (say our heavenly Parents,) and all that are wise, will be extremely careful not to err in respect to the sacred order of confessing sin."

"It is our united desire and request, (says Mother,) in union with the Ministry and Elders, that after each general reading of these laws, all our children upon earth, who hear them, should kneel down in thanks to God, for His condescension and kindness in granting us, (your heavenly Parents,) our request, in sending you these Laws in the form they are. Then all unitedly to pray for the inhabitants of the earth, that God, in His mercy, would give them the offer of salvation."

Mother also says, "It was through and by our desire & request, that the Angel had orders to read these last six parts himself. Yea, (says Mother,) they have been obtained from your Heavenly Father, in deep tribulation, and they have been written in the same; therefore we unitedly pray and desire that all would be careful how they treat or speak of them. For no one on earth hath framed or invented them, nor brought them forth in their present form and order."

"We also desire that our kind love and tender regard for the good of all our children, may go wherever this is sent, and be received, after reading, while on your knees, in thanks to God."

"We also, all unitedly, (say Mother, Father William and Father James,) send our everlasting thanks, love and blessing to the beloved Ministry and Elders, for their kind and tender forbearance, in granting our request, that these things might be uninterruptedly written. Our work, and the work of the Angel, in this respect, is now finished," says Mother Ann.

New Lebanon June 12th 1840

A short Note from Father James respecting Part XVI.

As there are many points spoken closely upon in that part respecting children, it is the feeling of your Heavenly Parents, says Father, if the beloved Lead feel union, that none of the children under the age of eighteen should be present when that part is read.

It is also our united desire, says Father James, that the beloved Ministry would feel freedom to do with all these written laws, which are contained in the foregoing, as their best judgment & wisdom may direct, as respects the reading of them in out families, or the reading of any particular part thereof, whenever their wisdom may direct so to do.—

We, the Ministry and Elders of the Church of Christ in New Lebanon, do hereby express our grateful acknowledgments and kind thanks to our heavenly Parents, for their prayers and kind intercessions to our Heavenly Father, and obtaining from Him the Holy and Sacred Laws of Zion. We esteem them as a rich treasure, granted to the children of our ever blessed Mother, and all the faithful inhabitants of Zion upon earth, and pray that they may awaken every soul to greater watchfulness against all evil, and more strict obedience in walking and living according to the precepts contained in these divine laws: And in testimony of our approbation, our thankfulness and gratitude, we hereunto subscribe our names.

Note. The Book containing the following Supplement was written by the holy Angel Vikālen, the prophecying Angel of God, and given to the Ministry at Watervliet, by Jesus Christ the Savior, on Thursday May 21.st 1840, (thro' a messenger there,) and read in the Church at New Lebanon, by Father James, (thro' another messenger here,) on the 26.th of June following.

Supplement
To the Holy Laws of Zion.

Given for the Reestablishment of Church Order, for the further increase of the Children of Zion.

Thus saith the holy Savior;

My dearly beloved, the holy Anointed on earth,

I have at this time written and caused to be written by the Angel Vikalen, this Book, which is to confirm and witness my union and approbation with what you have heretofore received from your heavenly Parents; that there have not been any writings or communications from them, but what have perfectly agreed with the holy Savior, and with the true Spirit and will of God.

2. Thus saith the Savior; My Heavenly Father hath sent forth His Book containing the holy Laws of Zion; and twenty parts therefrom have been read by His holy Angel and your heavenly Parents, and written for the general increase of all Believers. I have placed my name and fixed my seal upon that holy Book, witnessing to the truth of what is there stated by your heavenly Parents.

3. Yea, my beloved, says the Savior, let the will & desires of your heavenly Parents be written and kept as a law and covenant, for the strength and guidance to their children, for ages to come, when those of you, my dearly beloved, who now bear the burden, and direct the House of God, shall finish your work and be no more; that it may be a lasting memorial for those on whom the anointing shall rest, to lead and protect God's chosen; that by it they may be strengthened and supported, and build upon the same which they now see witnessed by their blessed Lead; which is manifested from their holy Savior & heavenly Parents in eternity.

4. And furthermore, have I caused to be stated in this Book, another matter, which is necessary for a further increase among Believers. And as this is the first Church on earth, here is the holy Anointed, the chosen and appointed of God. And His Wisdom and holy Power rest upon you, to lead and direct His holy people. Here must the Laws of Zion first be revealed; here must the first increase be found; here is where all souls look for example; and here must the pattern be set.

5. Beloved Ministry, believing your anxiety to know and do the will of your heavenly Parents, I will now make known their will and desire unto you. That is, that the people of God should be more separate from the children of this world. Did not Jesus the Savior first set this example while on earth? Was it not in the first call of souls to salvation? Truly it was. I called upon those who followed me, to separate themselves from the world, saying, Come out from among them; deny yourselves of the pleasures and friendships of this world, take up your cross and follow me.

6. Feeling the same anxiety for the salvation of souls, it is my will and desire that, in union with the beloved Lead, the Believers should be gathered into Zion, and her walls closed; for the enemy is lurking around, seeking opportunities to allure and decoy the children of Zion. Your heavenly Parents say that too much freedom has been shown to the unbelieving and defiled children of this lost world; that there has loss, yea, great loss come by having so much correspondence and sociability; freely conversing with hired men.

7. Did your first Parents and Elders set this example? Is this the way that the order and Church of God was first established? When your first Parents received the gospel, did they not separate themselves from their connections, from the world, and all that was near to them, and form a little band, secluded, as far as possible, from all others? Did they not labor and toil for their own support? Truly they did, & reaped the reward of their industry.

8. It has been a grief to your blessed Parents, many times, to see so much hiring done, and so little interestedness among Believers, to get their own support, and gain their interest in temporal things, in the fear and order of God, by their own industry and diligence.

9. This is the request of your heavenly Parents; that if there be union with the present Lead, there should be no more calculations made for hiring help in the Church, where it can consistently be avoided. Of this, the Ministry, Elders and Trustees must be the proper judges. Whatever engagements are already made for hired help, let them be fulfilled.

10. But why should you make so much dependence on such help? It is not any gain to your interest nor prosperity, and proves no blessing to you, and never will. — Nay, says your blessed Mother, you cannot find the increase that is for you, while you keep up so much business with the world. The increasing work of God calls you to make a further separation.

11. My dear children, I have looked around among you with sorrow and grief, many times, and beheld the filthy and unclean, who were hired & employed to repair your buildings and door-yards, (which are consecrated to God and his people,) and at work around upon your farms, with the brethren. Great loss has come by these things, yea, more than Believers are sensible of.

12. Many times have the young minds been allured and drawn astray, by getting into company with hired men, and having vain and carnal conversation, that which led their minds to sin, and attracted their sense to the vain pleasures of the world. I speak of the brethren; because they are more exposed. Many, yea, very many of the young and unstable in their faith, have received that in this way, that was their final overthrow.

13. Many that might now have been with you, promising in the work of God, who fell away, got their first hurt in this way, by blending and uniting with hired men; and then getting together with their equals, in their leizure moments, to tell over the stories they had heard the workmen tell; and feasting upon these stories until they became wholly defiled, and lost their protection, lost the love and union of their Elders, brethren and sisters; lost their souls and were ruined.

14. And many, by the means of having hired help, have fell into a careless, idle sense; and instead of improving all their time, and devoting their fac-

-ulties and strength, and diligently improving their mornings and evenings, have foolishly loitered about, thin-ing there was no need of being much engaged; for the hired hands will do the work; and I had rather they would. This is a wrong sense, and must be purged out.

15. Such things bring grief to your blessed Parents.
It is their desire that each and every Believer should pu their hands to work and their hearts to God, and take hold of the present increase of the work of God, and build up the Church of God upon earth, with your own industry; that what you gain may be your own earning that which you have zealously labored for, both in things spiritual and temporal.

16. It is a destructive thing to Believers, to leaven into a careless, stupid sense; feeling at ease, and rather hire their work done than do it themselves. I tell you this is not the way for Believers to increase; and if you go on in this way, you will surely lose the blessing, and will not prosper, as you have done heretofore; for the season of these things must come to a close. You can no longer prosper, nor your riches increase, while the defiled and unclean are daily around you, offering their unrighteous service upon this holy, consecrated ground.

17. Certainly, dear children, you have made a mistake in doing this. You have had too strong a desire to appear popular and flourishing in the eyes of the world; wanting many buildings and much room; extensive on your farms; too great a desire to expand to the children of sin; an excitement of curiosity, by an extensive trade in your produce and manufactures; making a great show and profession, and at the same time are not able to perform, and do not fulfill the duties which lie on your own premises.

18. But rather than stop the sound of a great name, and your commerce with the world, you readily increase it by calling and hiring them into your doreyards and dwellings to do that which you say you have no time to do.

19. Truly, dear children, these things are a displeasure to your heavenly Parents, who have ever strove, since they left you on earth, to gather that heavenly food for you, that when the time should come for it to be revealed, should be for your everlasting increase and support in the way of God.

20. Thus saith the holy Savior; It would be far more satisfying and pleasing to me, and to all your heavenly Parents, to see some of the Societies of our children upon earth, with not more than one half or two thirds as many buildings, and one half as much room and convenience, well repaired and taken care of, in a plain & neat manner, adorned with union and order, as becomes the people of God; and these, ~~and these~~, as far as can be consistently done, erected and completed exclusive of the services of the wicked; by the hands of the undefiled, who devote their services, and justly inherit the consecrated ground.

21. Then shall the blessing of God flow, and his protection be felt. Yea, say your heavenly Parents, this is the way the foundation was laid, and the Church first erected; by each and every one being wholly devoted and interested to build up the Zion upon earth; their hands to work and their hearts to God; all striving to be the most help, and do the most good. Up bright and early to their duty in the morning; and improving their evenings in some useful employment for the joint union.

22. They did not desire to make some great show; neither did they call upon filthy hearts and unclean hands to build up the Church of God, but were willing and satisfied to live low and poor, until they gained their support by their own toil and labor. This is the way in which they received the blessing of God, and prospered in their undertakings. And in this way, and no other, can the people of God be blessed.

23. It is the desire of the holy Savior and your heavenly Parents, that the Church should again return to its former rectitude, as respects its spiritual feeling of dependence upon God and the order of God, for its protection and prosperity.

24. Yea, says Father James, let those be called home who wander abroad, let Zion be shut up and the world shut out. Let Believers henceforth labor to do their own work, till their own land, and reap the fruits of their own labors. It has grieved me, says Father, to see the feelings of some of the young so indifferent and idle; so willing to let the filthy creatures of this world in among them, and thought it was adding to your interest. But nay; you are mistaken; it is spending your interest, spoiling yourselves, losing the fear of God, and shutting out his blessing.

25. You had much better live poorer a few years, and raise your own provisions, as far as lies in your power; and have no correspondence with the world, only what is necessarily done by the Trustees of the Office, in the order and fear of God. Let each heart be interested at home, to beautify this gospel, by walking according to what you profess; which is to be separate from the children of the world, in body and spirit; living together pure and undefiled, united in one union & spirit; befriending one another in brotherly love.

26. Yea, says Father, chuse rather to live on a little that is justly yours, than an abundance of that which comes through the unclean hands of the wicked. For a little room with love and united spirits, will bring you far more comfort and blessing than an extensive farm or many buildings, or great convenience, that are daily occupied by that which God does not own.

27. Dear children, do not incline to branch out in your farms, and spread yourselves further than you are able to improve. It is the request and will of your Parents, that you should buy no more land for cultivation, until those which you now have in possession are faithfully improved. Take every advantage of that nearest home, to see it well nurtured and tilled, that it may yield forth blessings to you.

28. Your Parents have looked round on this consecrated ground, and been sorry to see it look, in some places like a deseted land, showing no toil nor labor, bringing forth no increase to the people of God; while your feelings are wandering and aspiring for that which is far off.

29. Remember, dear children, it is those who stay in the fold, and feed around the tent, that are sure of the blessing and protection of God's people. But it is the wanderer and seeker after riches, honor & a great name among the grand & popular, that are liable to the dangers of this life, and the judgments of God to overtake them—

30. Furthermore, erect no more buildings until you have wholly finished those you have begun; and henceforth do not begin more than you have strength and means to accomplish in proper time. Do not be expensive and extravagant in your buildings, but modest & neat. For a lowly cottage in order & cleanliness, is far more beautiful, than a grand dwelling, made or inhabited by that which is unclean.

31. Was it not the pattern that was set by your first Parents, and those who have gone before you, and laid the foundation for you to build upon, to be tidy & snug in temporal things? Liberal & kind, free and loving together? and zealous to keep all things in order?

32 When there was a building to repair or be built, when the signal was given, all would lend a liberal hand, and feel an interested desire to see how quick it would be accomplished. Loving to see all things in order, and knowing it would please their blessed Parents, in so doing, they obtained the blessing of God, and built up the Church in order and beauty.

33. It does not beauty Zion to have a great deal of lumber about, and a building begun and left, and another begun, until there is a number in one family, standing years before they are finished. And what is done, be done by now and then a hired job of wicked worldlings. Do you think, dear children, that this is the right way for the people of God or Mother's children to prosper? Or is it being true to our profession? Nay, it is not.

34. May the young follow the example of their predecessors, and henceforth manifest their zeal in the gospel by their strict attention to the laws of Zion, and obedience to their holy Lead; chusing an everlasting separation from all that is wicked and unclean. Yea, chuse rather to gain your own treasure in things spiritual and temporal, than to indulge an idle curiosity, or please the fancies of the natural mind.

35. We do not say you shall never hire on any occasion whatever; but if the thing be really necessary to be done, let it be done with the union of the Ministry and Elders, by the Trustees of the office; and let the hired help be applied to accomplish such jobs as you, in your best wisdom and judgment deem to be inexpedient for the brethren to accomplish; being careful that the spirit of the world does not get in and mingle with Believers.

36. Thus saith the Savior; Holy Anointed, think it not hard that these things are now read unto you; nor take the blame to yourselves; for it is not yours.—

Knowing your earnest desire that the present manifestation of your heavenly Parents should afford you some relief, that there might be a separation from the world, and not fulling able to effect the work yourselves, they, in their condescending love, have listened to your request.

37. And many times, yea, very many times, have I, the Savior, beheld the blessed Lead upon earth, laboring to know and do the will of your heavenly Parents, poured forth my blessing upon you, and enabled you, by my holy power, to remove that which looked to you impossible to remove. And there is still the remainder of this subject lying with weight on the feelings of your heavenly Parents.

38. It is furthermore, the will and desire of your heavenly Parents, that Believers should know and consider the loss you have fell under, and the heavy tribulation that has many times been brought upon you, by your commercial business. You have enlarged upon it, and extended its limits so far, that the blessing of God is withdrawn, and its prosperity abated.

39. Nay, say your blessed Parents, there is no need of so much of this trading all over. It proceeds from an ungoverned sense, and the blessing of God does not attend it; neither do we own nor bless it. Certainly there has great loss come by this means. Loss of money; loss of time spent in idle curiosity; and worse than all, the loss of souls, which have been many among Believers.

40. We therefore desire, if in union with your present Lead, that you should not do any more for trade and commerce than what can be done without causing long and fatiguing journies, and separating you from the people of God, for many weeks, and take the time and service of those whose interest ought to be at home, in the vineyard where they dwell.

41. Yea, much more pleasing would it be to us, your Parents, that you should never go out on traffic, any further than you really need, to get the necessary articles for your support and comfort; which can be procured within a short distance.

42. We should much rather you would do your own work, and raise and procure your own support, and wholly neglect to carry along any commercial business, only what you can do besides attending strictly to that which pertains to your own welfare, honor and support, without having to make up the lack by hiring the world to do your work, while you are at the same time, devoting your services and time to satisfy the craving desires of the wicked, which is not required of the people of God.

43. You are not called to supply the whole world with the things of this life; nor to satisfy their vain desires with curiosities; nor to follow their fashions nor customs. But your calling is, to separate yourselves, in word and deed; plainly testifying before all, by precept and example, that you are the followers of Christ in the regeneration.

44. And furthermore, you are not, at any time, to make any trade, whatever, with those who have left the way of God, and indulge a spirit of enmity and opposition against the prosperity of Zion; nor to have any connection or correspondence with any such creatures; but keep yourselves separate from sin and sinners; and in so doing, you will find the blessing and protection of God. The increasing work of God calls for the children of Zion to gather home, and see where they have erred, and lost the blessing and protection of God.

45. Believers have greatly missed the mark in these respects, and have deceived themselves — have thought they were adding to their property and interest, and showing marks of wealth and prosperity in the eyes of mankind, — while, at the same time, they were bringing trouble and distress upon themselves, and knew not what it was. — A great deal has been brought in which was not owned, neither could be, for which you have had to suffer & labor out of.

46. Thus say your heavenly Parents, we have made known our will and desire in relation to these things, in addition to what has heretofore been given. So press on, dear children, in obedience to your holy Lead upon earth, knowing that your heavenly Parents have not forsaken you, but will continue to reveal their will and desire to the faithful, until they arrive at the destined mark which we have set.

47. Thus saith Jesus the Savior, May this, the desired will of your eternal Parents, be given to the holy Anointed, and be submitted to their care, to communicate to the Mother Church; and may it follow the Book of Laws to all Believers, as far as the beloved Lead, in their wisdom, see fit. Amen.
